YOUTH ADMITS WEIHE PAID HIM $300 EXPENSE MONEY

Young McGowan, Whom Detectives Charge With Confessing Perjury in Lorimer Case, Denies It All.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Charles McGowan, the young Canadian from Regina, who has been the storm center of the Lorimer senatorial investigation since private detectives charged that he had "admitted perjuring himself for $1,500," testified today that he had received $300 from C. F. Wiehe, a brother-in-law of Edward Hines, for the losses he sustained by absence from his business in Canada while he was before the committee in Washington last July.

McGowan has been accused by private detectives of having admitted that he perjured himself in giving testimony in favor of Senator Lorimer before the senate investigating committee last summer and when called to the witness chair today, denied the allegations absolutely.

Appearance a Surprise.

His appearance as a witness at this stage was somewhat of a surprise.

McGowan told of meeting Detective Bailey.

"Did you ever tell Bailey or anybody else that you had perjured yourself for the Hines bunch, or that in substance?" asked Attorney Haney.

"No sir."

"Did you ever say you were going to hold the Hines bunch up for $5,000?"

"No sir."

"Did you ever ask C. F. Wiehe for $5,000 or $1,500 'for perjuring yourself.'"

"No sir."

He denied that R. J. Shields shoved money toward him when he signed an affidavit in the case. So on through Bailey's testimony he went, McGowan categorically denying in short "no sir" answers material allegations by Bailey of McGowan's so-called admissions.

Lost Much Business.

The question of Mr. McGowan having been paid a large sum of money for expenses when he testified before the committee the first time, came up. He said that his well drilling machine, with which he made from $10 to $100 a day, had been idle during the five weeks he had been in Washington.

FLORIDA LAND CASE LOOKS GOOD FOR BIG SENSATION

New Developments Likely in Probe of Everglades Exploitation Involving High Officials.

Washington, Feb. 7.—New developments in the prospective congressional investigation into the attitude of high officials of the department of agriculture toward the exploitation of the Florida Everglades lands were promised today when Chairman Moss, of the house committee on expenditures in that department, called a meeting of the democratic members of his committee and went into an executive session with Senators Fletcher and Bryan, of Florida.

Neither senator would discuss the situation and Chafrman Moss indicated the result of the meeting might be made known late today.

Solicitor McCabe, of the department of agriculture, had planned to appear today before the committee and tell the department's side of the case, but this was deferred at the last moment.

Caused a Sensation.

Charges by Representative Frank Clark, of Florida, and Representative E. R. Bathrick, of Ohio, to the effect that through the influence of promoters for the sale of everglade lands department officials had suppressed reports of the drainage situation and that two officials of the department, Engineers Elliott and Morehouse, had been dismissed from the service after refusing to retract their statements which were unfavorable to the land promoters, have created a sensation, closely resembling the situation in the controversy between Solicitor McCabe and Dr. Wiley, the government's pure food expert, in which McCabe recommended the doctor for dismissal. This case, however, ended in President Taft's vindication of Dr. Wiley.

Thousands of acres of everglade lands, priced at millions of dollars, have been sold all over the United States by the promotion syndicates. So widespread was the selling campaign conducted that the department of agriculture received thousands of inquiries for an official opinion upon the value of the lands and sent engineers to the everglades to make reports.

Charges Dismissed.

The proposed investigation and the charges of suppression of reports and undue influence of land promoters grew out of their work, although department of agriculture officials maintain that Elliott and Morehouse were dismissed and F. E. Singeton, an accountant, was suspended on a technical charge of transference of public funds. The men claim a few hundred dollars were transferred from one fund to another to carry on work for which money was running short and there is no charge that any of them profited by the transfer.

Those who are insisting upon the investigation say when the charges are aired it will be shown that the men were removed because they refused to recede from their reports on the true condition of the everglade lands.

SURVIVES 15,000 VOLTS.

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 7.—Knocked unconscious yesterday afternoon by 15,000 volts of electricity that passed through his body, Wilbur Scrudders, aged 42, foreman of the Citizens' Light, Heat and Power company here, was carried into a physician's office for dead. He remained in a comatose condition throughout the night, but this morning arose and went to work as usual, complaining only of a soreness of muscles. Scrudders was directing the repair work of some machinery when he touched a charged wire.

FORT WAYNE MAN HURT IN WRECK

Engineer J. F. Randol Injured in Collision on G. R. & I.

CRASH AT COOPER

In a head-on collision of freight trains on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad, two miles north of Cooper, Mich., shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, Fireman H. F. Saams, of Grand Rapids, was badly injured and Engineer J. F. Randol, of 1240 Eliza street, Fort Wayne, was seriously, though not dangerously hurt.

The trains were the northbound regular freight No. 59, which left this city early this morning, and an extra southbound train which left Grand Rapids early today. The injured men were on the latter.

The scene of the accident is about eight miles north of Kalamazoo and surgeons were sent out from that city in automobiles and the injured received prompt attention.

The particulars of the accident and the character of the injuries sustained by Engineer Randol and Fireman Saams were not given in the early dispatches to the railway officials. But the messages stated that it was believed that neither of the men was fatally injured.

The property loss is considerable, two engines being badly damaged and some cars more or less smashed up. The damaged engines belong to the Pennsylvania and were borrowed a few weeks ago. They will be brought here for repairs.

With the exception of a slight scratch on the body of one of the other members of the train crews, no other personal injuries resulted from the collision.

The wreck crews from Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo were sent to the scene of the accident and it is expected to have the wreckage cleared up in a few hours.

TWO REPORTED KILLED.

Physicians Were Hurried to Scene From Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 7.—Two Grand Rapids and Indiana railway trains met in collision a few miles north of Cooper station, shortly after 1 o'clock today. It is reported that two are killed and several wounded. Physicians were rushed to the scene of the accident in automobiles from Kalamazoo.

FIRE IN INSANE HOSPITAL.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 7.—Fire at the Southern Indiana hospital for the insane two miles east of here early today was confined to the clothing and bath room, and the loss will be less than $1,000. The fire was caused by the explosion of an alcohol lamp in the room of a patient. More than 200 patients were removed from the vicinity of the fire without injury and the attendants averted a panic.

TRAIN BANDITS DO FINE EXPERT JOB

Hold Up and Rob Rock Island Mail and Express Cars at Hulburt, Ark., and Get Away Safely.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 7.—Five men plundered the mail and express cars of Rock Island train, No. 43, near Hulburt, Ark., early today and made away with their booty long before an alarm was spread and posses could seek their trail. The hold-up was so cleverly planned and executed with such precision that none of the train employes could offer resistance and few of the passengers knew anything had happened until they awoke to find their train stalled.

At noon it was reported money consigned to a bank in Oklahoma estimated at between $60,000 and $75,000 had been taken from the express car by the robbers. No arrests had been reported up to noon.

They ransacked the postal car, blasted the Wells Fargo express safe, apparently overlooking nothing that might add to their profit. This was the second hold-up near Hulburt within the last four months.

Capture Train Easily.

The train left Memphis about midnight. After it cleared the western terminus of the Mississippi river bridge, it was boarded by two masked men. They climbed over the tender, covered the engineer with guns, then the train was halted. The engineer was bound and gagged, then kicked off into a ditch. The fireman ran the train on several miles until it was signalled to a halt at a camp fire alongside the track, where three other bandits waited. Here the baggage and mail cars were detached from the passenger coaches and before any of the train crew knew what was happening, the locomotive, with its light load, was penetrating farther into the country.

While one of the bandits held a gun over the fireman, the remaining four of the band clambered into the express and mail coaches and covered the messengers and clerks.

POWDER PLANT BUYS NEW SITE.

Ætna Company Will Abandon Present Location for River Lands.

Gary, Ind., Feb. 7.—The Ætna Powder company, which manufactures dynamite, gun cotton, and nitroglycerin, has purchased a 200 acre site on the Kankakee river marshes and will abandon the present plant at Ætna, which is within a mile of the Gary steel mills. The cause for abandoning its present location is its close proximity to the Gary steel mills. Should a big explosion occur it would rock the expensive machinery and cripple the steel plant.

New York, Feb. 7.—Dorothy Arnold has not been found. A police report that the missing girl was on a train which left Philadelphia at 8:14 this morning for this city, proved to be incorrect. BEGIN HEARINGS ON STEEL TARIFF

Senate Finance Committee Now Taking Testimony on the Bill.

SAW MAKER IS HEARD

Washington, Feb. 7.—The senate committee on finance today began a series of hearings on the house steel tariff revision bill which would make an average reduction of 35 per cent in the present tariff law. The hearing marked the first real work of the senate on the tariff question at this session of congress.

No attempt has been made to limit the hearings, but Chairman Penrose has indicated a view that the committee may be able to finish the hearings in about three weeks and then proceed to consider the bill in executive session and make prompt report to the senate.

Many representing interests affected have asked to speak. Those whom the committee agreed to hear today were William Piggott, of Seattle, Wash., for the Pacific Coast Steel company; J. L. Gitterman, of Philadelphia, representing manufacturers of tinfoil and bottle caps; President R. P. Miller, of the National Alloy company of Philadelphia, and representatives of card clothing and steel pen interests of Philadelphia and New York.

The committee changed the order of hearing witnesses first giving audience to Henry C. Atkins, a saw manufacturer, of Indiana, who said the house bill rate on cross cut saws would result in a material loss to manufacturers, as the rate under the present law, about a third higher, barely covered the difference in cost of production between this and European countries.

DIG LONG TO RESCUE MAN ENGULFED IN SLACK COAL

Andrew McDaniel, Buried for Half an Hour When Mass Slides With Him, Escapes Serious Hurts.

Fifteen men, shoveling frantically for half an hour this morning, succeeded in rescuing Andrew McDaniel, a laborer, who had been completely engulfed by the sliding of a great mass of slack coal at the power station of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, on Spy Run avenue.

So long was the man a prisoner beneath the great heap of coal that it was feared the experience might prove fatal to him, and physicians were hurriedly summoned while the men were yet delving into the great mountain of coal to reach the helpless man. Dr. J. Frank Dinnen reached the spot just as McDaniel was released. The victim of the accident sat for a moment upon the ground and was then assisted to his feet. He declared that with the exception of some bruises he was uninjured, and declined to be sent to his home at Lynn avenue and Bush street. A few minutes later he pluckily resumed work.

The accident caused tremendous excitement among the power station employes. Mr. McDaniel, who is a man of middle age, had climbed to the summit of a great mountain of slack coal, which is kept continually on hand to feed the furnace at the power station, and was engaged in shoveling when the mass of coal began sliding beneath his feet. Before McDaniel could scramble to a place of safety he was completely swallowed up by the sliding mass.

Other employes witnessed the accident, but had been powerless to aid the unfortunate man, though they gave the alarm quickly and within a few minutes a force of fifteen men was at work with shovels digging into the mass of coal to the point where McDaniel, his body practically entirely buried, was utterly helpless. Calling to their comrade to keep up his nerve, the laborers attacked the mountain of coal with desperate energy. So great a volume of coal had to be removed, however, that it was half an hour before the man was freed.

INDICTED MEN ARE UNDER ESPIONAGE

ARRESTS WILL COME

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—Instructions were sent to government agents in at least twenty cities today to keep watch over the men who have been charged in thirty-two indictments with complicity with the McNamaras and Ortie E. McManigal in the dynamite conspiracy. The men indicted, who are said to number between thirty and forty, are now scattered in cities as far distant as Boston, New York, New Orleans, Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Seattle, and it is the plan of the government to cause their arrest on one day. It is understood telegrams from the federal authorities here have informed the officials in the districts where the men reside that capiases have been issued and these, with copies of the indictments are to be sent as soon as possible.

In the meantime it is the government's purpose to guard against acquainting the accused men of the fact of their indictment and to watch their movements until they are taken in custody.

CONVICT LABOR IN STEEL CAMPS

Tales of Frightful Brutality Come Out in the Investigation.

METHODS MERCILESS

Washington, Feb. 7.—Convict labor in the operation of subsidiary companies of the United States steel corporation, particularly in Alabama, were taken up by the Stanley investigating committee when it resumed its hearings today. Shelby M. Harrison, of New York, a magazine writer, testified that he had made an investigation of the condition. He told of the large number of state and county convicts in the camps in Alabama and of the minor offenses for which some of the men had been convicted and put to work in the mines. Men who walked on the right of way of a railroad, he said, had been arrested for misdemeanor and ordered into convict labor.

The committee inquired very minutely into the way in which the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company procured convicts. Mr. Harrison said the company agreed to take the convicts "old or young, black or white" and work them in the camps.

Punishment is Frightful.

Mr. Harrison said that the warden who flogs convicts in labor camps for insubordination is employed by the steel company. He said that he had seen a prisoner flogged with a three-ply leather strap and had seen black and blue marks on one convict's back.

Mr. Harrison said that convict laborers were forced to lie flat on their faces to be flogged.

"Flogged with a thong, as big as a wagon trace or tug?" suggested Mr. Stanley.

"By a strap five feet long."

"Ever see this instrument of torture?"

"Yes."

"What is the usual punishment?"

"Fifteen lashes."

Representative Bartlett, of Georgia, a member of the committee observed that the whole system of convict labor was wrong.

"I don't think there is any difference in committee as to that," added Representative Gardner, of Mississippi.

"No difference of opinion as to that with us," interjected Attorney Reed, of the steel corporation, "and we are getting out of it as soon as possible."

SEARS CHILD WITH HOT IRON.

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 7.—Edith Ford, housekeeper for Adam Sheets, of Nasby-Glow, twelve miles from this city, was committed to jail in default of $400 bail here today on a charge of aggravated assault and battery on the allegation that she scared the back of Sheets' three year old son with a hot poker. The Ford woman said she burned the child to break him of a habit, but did not know the implement was so hot.

GOV. HOOPER OUT FOR RE-ELECTION

Says He Will Destroy Saloon in Tennessee if the People Will Aid.

ASKS A LEGISLATURE

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 7.—Ben W. Hooper, first republican elected governor of Tennessee for three decades, announced today that he would stand for re-election. In reviewing the achievements of his administration he says he has done his best in enforcing state-wide liquor laws, but he proposes additional legislation to deal with promiscuous indifference with the anti-liquor statutes.

"If the people of Tennessee will back me up," declares the governor, "with the right kind of a legislature, we will demonstrate that the saloon can be driven from every city in Tennessee."

Governor Hooper was elected on a fusion of independent democrats and republicans, and he says he expects the independent vote to carry him through for a second term.

NO MORE EGGS FOR POOR.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 7.—The city council has decided that hereafter poor families quarantined because of smallpox, will have to do without eggs unless it be shown that eggs are absolutely necessary. A bill for groceries filed against the city by a grocer who supplied the family of Thomas Wycoff for about three weeks, included the price of thirteen dozen eggs and the councilmen objected. They also found that a number of families who have been supplied with provisions at the expense of the city are objecting seriously to having quarantine lifted and their food supply cut off. The woman in one home under quarantine wished the city to furnish a cook to prepare the free groceries while the quarantine regulations were maintained.

WILL NOW STICK TO SIMPLE LIFE

Warner Was Robbed, Lost and Arrested All in a Single Night.

BIG CITY DAZES HIM

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—Robbed, lost and arrested summarizes briefly the experiences in a large city of Alexander Warner, a farmer and trapper from near Zionsville, as he recounted them today in police court. Warner was grieved at his fate, and the rude ways of city folks, and he said frankly that if he was ever so fortunate as to get back home the simple and rustic life would do for him.

"The lights," Warner said, were not the cause of him coming to the city. He said he had some pelts to dispose of. He made a good bargain, he said, obtained $12.80, bought a rubber coat "dirt cheap" and also a violin, which attracted his admiration, from the show window of a pawn shop. Night came on and between the strangeness of city streets and effects of a few nips of brandy, Warner said he finally admitted to himself he was lost.

Somewhere, Warner said, he could not tell exactly where, except that it was in the vicinity of railroad tracks, he was attacked by three men and robbed of his change. Then he met the police, who capped his troubles by turning a deaf ear to his woes, and calling the patrol. Warner was fined $1 and costs in police court. The violin and rubber coat, the only possessions he had to show for his visit to the city, would not satisfy the judgment and he was remanded to jail.

WAGON CUT IN TWAIN BY CAR.

Driver Escapes Injury in Collision and Runaway.

A Lakeside car, west bound, smashed into a wagon and team, driven by Silas Long, who resides a mile east of the city on the Maysville road, at the corner of Barr and Columbia streets, about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, and the wagon was cut in two by the collision. The horses, becoming frightened, dashed east on Columbia street, dragging the front part of the wagon, and ran all the way home, dropping the front of the wagon at Walton avenue. Mr. Long escaped uninjured.

OIL TANK WAS UPSET.

Gasoline Ran in Gutters But Accident Was Avoided.

One of the big oil tanks of the Stand-Oil company was upset on Lafayette street just north of Wallace this noon and gasoline and coal oil ran into the gutters and sewers.

Two policemen were put on duty there to prevent anybody from throwing a lighted match down in the vicinity which would have meant a disastrous explosion. The tank overturned when an axle broke but the driver escaped injury.

BREAK IN WATER PIPE IS MENDED

CELLAR WAS FLOODED

After city employes had cut a hole in the pavement on Calhoun street south of the alley between Berry and Wayne, looking for a break in the water main, it was discovered that the break had occurred in a latteral pipe connecting with the fire plug and that the water had ploughed its way through to one of the electric line ducts and burst through the wall of the basement of the Bass block, flooding the place and extinguishing the fire under the boilers. It also found its way into the basement of the Shoaff building, but did little damage there.

While the men from the department were working on the break all the water was shut off on Calhoun street between Main and Wayne, on Berry between Calhoun and Clinton, on Court street and on Clinton from Main to Wayne. The repairs were finished about 1 o'clock this afternoon and the water turned on.

James Ford, superintendent of construction, had men stationed at the shut off valves so they could have been opened in a few seconds in case of fire in the district and there was little danger from this source. People dependent on the lines in the dry territoy were annoyed as a result of the accident.

Members of the board of works were watching and rushing the work all night and kept careful tab on it until it was finished. Great delay was caused by the fact that for fifteen inches below the concrete base of the pavement the ground was frozen until it was as hard to get through as the cement.

The water plug at the corner of the alley is out of commission and will be until the department can get at the leak and put in a new section of pipe. It was cut out with a shut off valve so that water could be turned into the other pipes.

NOT MAKING ENOUGH MONEY.

Interurbans Cannot Afford All Improvements at Once.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—The state railroad commission which today filed its sixth annual report with the governor, does not hold out much hope of early relief from crowded interurban cars. The traction companies, the commission sets out, have prepared to supply trailers for rush hours as rapidly as possible, but it is not at all likely that the additional cars will be provided at an early date.

Block signals and other precautions for protection in cases of high speed, more nearly perfect systems of dispatching and increasing efficiency in train crews are things the commission believes should receive attention at the hands of the interurban owners before the demands of the public for more cars during the rush hours are granted. It was shown that the interurban companies were not making money enough to warrant the commissions ordering all the improvements which the public would like.

The killing came as a sequel to the romance. The elder Sneed—J. T.—was expected to testify along the line that Captain Boyce was a big factor in his son's elopement with Mrs. Sneed.

IN SHAKESPEARIAN SENSE HE SAID IT

LABOR MAN EXPLAINS

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, today told the court which is trying him, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell for contempt that when he wrote "Go to with your injunctions," he had used the expression in the Shakespearean sense and not a profane one.

"I like Shakespeare and had in mind some of his expressions when I wrote that," said Mr. Gompers. "such as 'Avaunt,' 'go to with thy prattle,' it was in the Shakespearean sense that I used it and I meant no disrespect of this court or its decree. I meant 'go to,' 'wait,' or 'stop' with your injunction."

At the conclusion of his direct examination President Gompers exonerated John Mitchell, former vice president of the federation, who was sentenced to nine months in jail for contempt.

Mr. Gompers said Mr. Mitchell did not sign the pronouncement for which the labor leaders are being prosecuted, but that his name had been attached as a member of course and that he did not see the subject until it had been printed.

When Alton B. Parker had finished examining Mr. Gompers, cross-examination by the prosecutors began. Mr. Gompers persisted for a time in trying to answer questions to which Judge Parker objected, but the attorney's way prevailed.

Questioned Mr. Gompers.

Attorney Darlington read the injunction decree to Mr. Gompers and questioned him on it phrase by phrase. When he asked Gompers why he had not obeyed it and had permitted articles to apear in the American Federationist in violation of the injunction Gompers said he believed that his constitutional rights had been invaded and those portions of the injunction to which he took exceptions were void.

"You set yourself and your counsel up as an intermediary court of appeals to pass on the injunction?" suggested Mr. Darlington.

"No," said Mr. Gompers, "the point that we are contending for is the American right of free speech and a free press under the constitution."

"Now, who is to decide these points, you or the courts?"

"The supreme court of the United States. I contend that when the court transcends its right that the citizen shall decide for himself. If he is of the opinion that the court went too far he must decide for himself," said Mr. Gompers.

When the court took a recess at noon the unusual precautions taken to guard Justice Wright were apparent. Three policemen and a deputy United States marshal escorted him to his chambers. The judge has received many threatening letters.

man may give for his appearance before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson for arraignment here on March 12 is stated in the capiases. The aggregate amount of bonds asked, it is said, is $300,000.

In some instances capiases already have been sent, according to government officials, but many of the indictments are so voluminous that it will require several days to transcribe them so that copies can be sent with the papers for the arrests.

The indictments, some of which cover hundreds of pages, contain more detailed charges than are usually written into true bills. Many inquiries have reached District Attorney Miller's office requesting information about the indictments. It was said that some of these came from men who wanted to know whether they had been involved.

JUDGE HOOK MAY NOT LAND PLACE

New Protests Sidetrack His Nomination to the Supreme Bench.

OPENS ENTIRE CASE

Washington, Feb. 7.—Following an hour's session of the four lawyers in President Taft's cabinet today, it became known that the proposed nomination of Judge Wm. C. Hook, of Kansas, to the supreme court, had been held up and probably would not be sent to the senate this afternoon as President Taft had intended.

According to Kansans at the white house today, the latest protests against Judge Hook have grown out of an Oklahoma case in which an attempt was made to secure dining car and sleeping car privileges for negroes. The United States court, Judge Hook concurring, decided that it was optional with the railroads to furnish these cars for negroes. Representative Anthony, of Kansas, told President Taft today that many negroes in his state had withdrawn their protests against Judge Hook.

Although friends of Judge Hook were not ready today to admit that the latest protests will prevent his nomination, it was said that President Taft has opened up the whole question again and that Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel and Senator Sutherland, of Utah, are again being considered. Mr. Nagel was not present at the cabinet meeting today. It is well known that he has a strong advocate in Attorney General Wickersham and other members of the president's official family.

TAKES LINCOLN'S LETTERS AS TEXT

FIT THE CASE NOW

New York, Feb. 7.—The correspondence of Abraham Lincoln as a textbook and six newspaper reporters as pupils Col. Theodore Roosevelt addressed today what he called his "first class in applied decent politics." Col. Roosevelt prefaced his talk with the declaration that he had tried to take Lincoln's letters as a guide for himself and he thought that excerpts from many of the martyred president's letters would make proper replies to questions that are being asked him daily.

One of Lincoln's letters especially, Mr. Roosevelt thought, would apply to conditions confronting him today. This was a letter written at Springfield on April 6, 1860, to C. E. McNeil. The part emphasized by Mr. Roosevelt reads as follaws:

"I have made this explanation to you as a friend. But I wish no explanation made to our enemies. What they want is a squabble and a fuss, and they can have it if we explain. And they can't have it if we don't."

"PLOT" DECLARES ATTORNEY BACON

In Outlining Case to the Kimmel Jury at St. Louis.

IS WHITE KIMMEL?

St. Louis, Feb. 7.—Outlining to the Kimmel jury today the first efforts to established the identity of the present claimant as the missing George A. Kimmel, Attorney Frederick H. Bacon said: "This reveals a plot. There will be much sid in this trial of plots."

Attorney Beacon, for the receiver of the Niles, Michigan, bank, which is suing an insurance company for Kimmel's insurance, referred to Andrew J. White, the former New York convict, whom the defense contends is Kimmel, as "the claimant."

White, according to Bacon's statement to the jury, was first discovered June 22, 1899, eleven months after Kimmel disappeared in Kansas City. Bacon called the jurors' attention to the fact that Kimmel at that time would have been 32 years old and that White had stated to the prison authorities that he was 52. The claimant had blue eyes and Kimmel had dark brown eyes, according to the attorney.

"Certain witnesses for the plaintiff," said O'Brian, "take great interest in keeping Kimmel dead. We will show also that Kimmel had good reasons for disappearing. He owed $52,000 on paper that was about to fall due and all he had in the way of assets was $1,200 worth of stock in his own bank at Arkansas City, Kan.

"When Kimmel disappeared he had $110 in the bank, but that very day he borrowed $3,250 on his personal note. A short time before that he had borrowed $2,500 on a note of the Farmers' Mill and Elevator company, a dummy corporation he had organized.

George Jasper, assistant fire chief, has been making an inspection of fire plugs about the city, many of which were frozen during the recent severe cold, and it is believed all are now in working order. The difficulty has been with the older hydrants, which were installed in clay. Those of later installation have better drainage, which has protected them.

REPUBLICANS CARRY DULUTH.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 7.—Complete returns today show that the republican candidate for mayor of Duluth, Dr. John A. McCuen, was elected yesterday by a plurality of 1,400 over Mayor M. B. Cullum, democratic candidate for re-election. The issue of $700,000 lighting bonds was authorized. One socialist alderman was elected.

TO TAKE THE PLACE OF "FRATS."

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 7.—Sewing bees instead of dances and reading circles instead of stag banquets are to be diversions of high school students in new clubs just formed to take the place of school fraternities and sororities, so members say. The school board gave the students the choice of giving up their "frats" or quitting school, so they formed clubs. Now the school board is uneasy as to what the clubs may be.

TENDER MISSIVE KEPT BY M'LEAN

HE GETS PRISON TERM

If Neal McLean had thrown away a tender missive from a young woman in Fort Wayne warning him to look out for the police as they were after him, it is likely that he would have escaped arrest on a charge of forgery and that his sentence of from two to fourteen years might have been at least deferred.

He pleaded guilty in the circuit court today. In the course of his testimony it was shown that he was a visitor to the home of Marcus W. Daniels and secured possession of his deposit book with the Citizens' Trust company. A receipt for $20 was written and he signed Daniels' name to it, got the money and skipped.

He was picked up with another man at Indianapolis and while he was not wanted for any offense the presence of the letter caused inquiry to be made here and he was brought back. His home is at Evansville and he was employed here as a traveling salesman, solicitor and a railroad clerk and was also for a time at the Fort Wayne Electric works.

The prisoner denied on the stand that he had been arrested, but it was shown here he had been convicted in the city court of public intoxication.

Took Out First Papers.

Although he had held a membership in the city council for one term and was on the park board several years, Ferdinand Meier had never taken out his final naturalization papers until yesterday.

He is contemplating a trip to Germany and wanted this formality complied with to avoid any complications. He declared his intention of becoming a citizen Oct. 29, 1888, but was never naturalized. Final papers have been granted to Herman Bauer.

Zach Hoison was again turned down. He has been trying to qualify as a citizen so he can enter the saloon business, but his examination was not favorable.

Wilkerson a Deputy.

In the absence of B. Frank Eick, who is making a campaign for the nomination as sheriff, T. A. Wilkerson is acting as deputy sheriff in the circuit court. Harry Lowry has been made chief office deputy while Mr. Eick is out of the service.

Wives Ask Divorces.

Pearl E. Myron says in her divorce complaint against William H. Myron that he abandoned her and their two children Nov. 17 and she was compelled to live on charity and finally had to place one of the children in an orphan asylum. They were married in 1902. McAdams and Hartzell filed the suit.

Josephine Lutes wants a divorce from John M. Lutes on the ground that he abandoned her Feb. 1, 1910. They were married, Feb. 10, 1906, and have one child, of which the mother seeks custody. Emrick and Emrick filed the suit.

Merz Suit is Dismissed.

In the superior court the divorce suit of Nicholas Merz against Margaret Merz has been dismissed. Her suit against him for support has also been stricken from the docket.

LIFE TERM FOR CECIL FORDYCE

Court at Marion Passes Sentence on Young Murderer.

EXPECTED TO HANG

Marion, Ind., Feb. 7.—Cecil Fordyce 20 years old, who on the evening of January 27 murdered Clarkson Willcuts at the home of the latter here, was today indicted for murder in the first degree by the Grant county grand jury and sentenced by Judge H. J. Paulus to life imprisonment in the state prison on his plea of guilty.

Judge Paulus asked Fordyce if he fully understood the meaning of the indictment when it was read to him. His answer was in the affirmative and the court then passed the sentence. Fordyce seemed to be perfectly composed, but entered his plea in a low tone. He expressed himself as satisfied with the sentence as he said he expected to be hanged.

Sentence was imposed on the eleventh day after the commission of the crime. Fordyce called Willcuts to the door, thrust a revolver into his face and demanded his money. Willcuts grappled with Fordyce, who fired once. Mr. Willcuts died 20 minutes after he was shot. Fordyce formerly lived at Wabash.

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT.

Miss Amy Acock, a missionary to Japan, in this country on a leave of absence, will speak at the prayer meeting at the First Baptist church this evening.

DEATH COMES TO PIONEER WOMAN

Wife of John Studebaker Dead at Bluffton—Was Prominent in Every Good Work.

Bluffton, Ind., Feb. 7.—After months of suffering death claimed as its victim yesterday Mrs. Rebecca Studabaker, the wife of John Studabaker, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed women of Wells county. Several months ago, while working about her home, she fell and her limb was broken. While recovering from this attack, paralysis set in, effecting her blood vessels, and her suffering was intense. Mrs. Studabaker was 87 years of age, and was a resident of Wells county, living in Bluffton since 1839. The husband and two children survive. The children are David E. Studabaker, of the firm of John Studabaker & Son, and Mrs. Martha Waring, both of Bluffton.

As is her husband, she was an ardent temperance worker, and her life has been closely linked with every forward movement of the temperance cause in Wells county.

The funeral services will be held Shursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church, Rev. Clark Crawford, D. D., officiating. Word of Mrs. Studabaker's death was telegraphed to Rev. J. K. Cecil, of Fort Wayne; Dr. C. U. Wade and Rev. L. A. Beeks, former pastors of the local M. E. church, and if they are present for the funeral they will have a part in the services. Interment will be made in the Fairview cemetery.

HIS HENS BOSS LAYERS.

Got 310 Eggs from 23 Hens During Month of January.

Hartford City, Ind., Feb. 7.—Will Schisler has twenty-three prize-laying Buff Rock chickens that just now are almost worth their weight in gold.

During January these chickens laid 310 eggs. It cost $2.20 to feed them. Mr. Schisler sold enough eggs to buy all the feed and besides supplied his own table with "hen fruit." During the last week of January three of the hens were set.

The chickens are laying still and if the price of eggs continues its upward trend these barnyard fowls will rival the fabled goose that laid the golden egg.

Mr. Schisler keeps them in a pen 8x8. It is an ordinary town lot coop and is not equipped with the modern conveniences of some henneries. The chickens get ordinary feed, said Mr. Schisler. There is nothing in the way they are kept or in the manner of feeding that induces them to lay when it is worth while to get eggs. The hens are just naturally good layers, coming from a strain famed for its productiveness.

There are forty-one cradle rolls with an enrollment of 300. The report shows that there were twenty-five Sunday school conventions in the county in the past year and that the county is a loyal banner county in the ranking of the State Sunday School association.

BEWARE Young Man

It's The Little Dandruff Germs That are Causing Your Hair to Thin Out.

Parisian Sage Stops Falling Hair.

The clever young man of today doesn't take any chances on losing his hair. A man who is baldheaded at 30 looks like 45, and is placed at a disadvantage when seeking employment.

If you have dandruff it means down near the roots of your hair an army of dandruff germs are attacking the hair root and destroying its vitality.

Then hair falls out; grows thin and baldness results. Young man; put your faith in PARISIAN SAGE; it will stop falling hair, kill dandruff germs, abolish dandruff and itching scalp, or money back.

PARISIAN SAGE is only 50 cents a bottle at Meyer Bros. Co. and dealers everywhere.

Fine for Croup

Mothers Should Cut This Out and Never Be Unprepared.

In any home where a child has a tendency to croup, a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) should be kept constantly on hand.

A sudden attack of croup with difficult breathing and extreme distress is apt to come on at any time.

The course to be pursued is plain. Send for your doctor at once, and in the meantime drop 30 drops of Hyomei into a bowl of boiling water, and hold the child's head over it, cover with a towel or cloth, so that only the air filled with Hyomei vapor is breathed.

This method of treatment has saved many a child's life, and mothers of croupy children should see to it that HYOMEI is always on hand. Full instructions for prompt relief of croup is in each package.

A 50 cent bottle of HYOMEI is all you need for croup. It is sold by Meyer Bros. Co., Four Drug Stores, and druggists everywhere.

CHARLES DICKENS.

One hundred years ago today there was born the greatest story teller the English race has given to the world. Amidst genteel poverty Charles Dickens came upon life's scenes. Less than three-score years later he quitted those scenes the best known and best-beloved of all who had ever told tales for them that used the language in which he wrote. This Dickens centenary is a better time to consider the pleasure he gave, is giving and will always give, to estimate the enduring good he wrought in his own and influenced in later times, and to study him for the type of man he was, than to define the qualities of his art and attempt to fix anew his place in literature. As a writer Dickens had his faults, and they were not microscopic. To the literary dissectors let the task be left of finding and describing, of weighing and denouncing them. The multitude on this day will be glad to pause long enough to breathe a short prayer of heartfelt gratitude that so good and kindly a man and so captivating a story-teller was vouchsafed for their enjoyment. Dickens knew humanity and sympathized with it, laughed at it, loved it. He hated wrong and cruelty and selfishness. He detested sham and hypocrisy and meanness. His great heart swelled with pity for the poor and the suffering. He loved children and his soul flamed at the wronging of them. Light and joy, hospitality and good cheer were his elements. His books are full of them. His spirit was an unfailing fountain of humor. He has made generations of the whole English-speaking world laugh with him. It has been said in derogation of him that in all his voluminous works and in all his myriad characters "he never created a gentleman." Perhaps not. But he did create a deal of manliness and he crucified a deal of meanness. His life has been a joy and a blessing to millions. All of his race may well and heartily thank God that he gave Charles Dickens to them.

Announcement is made that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana will make a stock distribution of $29,000,000, thus raising its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $30,000,000. This is the concern against which Judge Landis several years ago assessed a fine of $29,000,000 for violations of the federal laws—fines which, by the way, higher courts set aside as excessive and unwarranted. The size of the melon soon to be cut will just equal the sum which the judge sought to mulct the company, a mere matter of coincidence and not of design, as may be supposed. It was shown at the hearing that the profits of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were annually several times the bulk of its capital stock, a fact that may have had something to do with the size of the fine Judge Landis thought it should pay. However, since the capital stock is not apt to cut much figure in the price of oil, this melon-cutting will not greatly interest any but the stockholders.

The case of the stenographer, Blumenberg, employed by the Lorimer investigating committee of the senate, presents a curious phase or two. He may be correct in his suspicion that the stenographic notes of a mixed conversation a youthful shorthand writer is alleged to have taken from a dictagraph were faked, but he displays all the zeal and stubbornness of an ex parte witness for the defense in the Lorimer inquiry. That the committee has definite suspicions of Blumenberg is manifest from the detail of the examination made of him by the committee. His story does not touch any sore spots on Lorimer, but it does impeach testimony that is vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes of Ed Hines and his brother-in-law, the man Weihe. The Blumenberg affair looks like a matter worth going far into.

Looks quite a lot as though some of Senator LaFollette's friends are wishing their candidate were a good deal sicker than he is. It has not been considered seriously anywhere that the Wisconsin insurgent could defeat Taft for the nomination and his candidacy is seriously in the way of a boom that can be made to amount to something. With the chief insurgent, the head and front of the rebellion against standpatism in the republican party, restored to the ranks and Roosevelt constituted legatee to the LaFollette presidential estate, the recalcitrants would feel a good deal more as though they had a bandwagon to ride in. They appear ready to quit the earlier procession.

Mayor Grice has acquitted himself with fine judgment in the selection of the lately named members of the city park commission, and the approval of his selections is general. The board as now constituted is strong personally and its capacity for high public service is beyond all question. Than Messrs. Fox and Dorn better selections were impossible, while the two holding members of the board, Colonel Foster and Mr. Tresselt, have long demonstrated their worth and have received the general approval. It is a fine commission and the people will be splendidly served.

Hon. Samuel Lewis Shank, mayor of Indianapolis and knight errant in the crusade against the high cost of living, is an avowed and working candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination. This brings his party organ forth with a shriek for help. The Indianapolis Star wants to be told what is the limit if Shank running for governor is not. Don't know up here, but opine that the Star's neighbor, the Sun, can shine to good effect on that query, and we trust it will do so.

THE APPEAL OF LITTLE NELL.

Spencerville is Coming in Force to See "Are You a Mason?"

SCORES HIT AGAIN

The enthusiasm over the Mystic Shrine production of "Are You a Mason?" has permeated not only all Fort Wayne but the territory surrounding it as well. Just how thoroughly this is trus is illustrated by the fact that the little town of Spencerville, in DeKalb county, is sending a delegation of sixty to witness the performance at the Majestic this evening.

The reservations of seats were made yesterday morning, and while seats are yet available for each of the remaining performances, it was not possible to fit the DeKalb county folk out with one solid block of seats as they desired. The Spencerville delegation will be somewhat scattered over two floors of the Majestic, but it was well taken care of and the management is exerting its best endeavors to take care of all comers, and those who have not yet secured seats may yet do so.

Another big audience manifested its approval of "Are You a Mason?" at the second performance of the comedy last night, and the oriental scene of the Shriners has been lengthened and improved upon until it is a commanding feature of the big and entertaining bill provided this week by the Mystic Shriners. The engagement closes Saturday evening.

PERSIA EXILES FORMER SHAH.

Offers Pension and Amnesty to Adherents if He Quits Country.

Teheran, Feb. 7.—With the consent of Great Britain and Russia, the Persian government, through the Russian consul at Asfrabad, will inform the former shah, Mohammed Ali Mirza, that it is willing to allow him a pension and grant amnesty to his adherents on condition that he quits Persia without delay. The foreign minister, in an interview yesterday, said: "The government is willing to grant the former shah 50,000 tomans ($100,000) yearly. Russia is not willing that he shall reside in Russian territory, and his place of residence will be settled upon in subsequent negotiations. The government will allow Shua-Es-Sultaneh, a brother, to resume possession of his roperty, and will grant Salar-Ed-Dowleh, another brother, 12,000 tomans yearly and remove the ban of confiscation from his property, provided he lives abroad."

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. KAISER CONCEALS THE WAR PICTURE

In Speech from Throne He Does Not Show International Status.

REICHSTAG IS OPEN

Berlin, Feb. 7.—Emperor William in person at noon today opened the thirteenth reichstag which has assembled since the foundation of the German empire.

As is customary, instead of going to the imperial parliament, the emperor called the members to the palace, where he made his speech from the throne in the great white hall. The reputies present were for the most part in uniform of court dress, but no representative of the social democratic party, comprising over one-fourth of the membership of the house, put in an appearance.

All the deputies joined heartily in the customary three cheers as the emperor entered. He was attended by several of the royal princes and surrounded by all the pomp and ceremony of a medieval pageant.

Heralds and Generals.

He was preceded by heralds and grey-haired generals bearing the crown and scepter, the sword of state, the imperial banner and other emblems of empire. The emperor walked straight to the throne, mounted the dais and placing his helmet on his head read his speech.

The main note of the speech was the demand for additions to the military and naval forces which are considered necessary in the present international situation. After greeting the members of the imperial parliament in the name of the governments of the confederated states of the empire, Emperor William affirmed his desire to augment the welfare of all classes of the people of Germany and maintain the strength and prestige of the nation.

He appealed to the new parliament for its co-operation in this work and then expressed the hope that by a strict adherence to the financial policy now in force the imperial finances would soon be placed on a thoroughly sound basis.

The emperor then referred to the new commercial treaties about to be entered into between Germany and other countries and announced that the imperial government in negotiating them would adhere to the old basis of its tariff policy, under which trade, industry and agriculture had prospered so well.

International Situation.

Then came the part of the emperor's speech for which the members of the reichstag were waiting with the utmost eagerness—that part in which he made reference to the international situation and to the expected increase in the army and the navy. There was partial disappointment, however, as the emperor merely announced the measures in a general way and did not give any details.

He said: "For the success of our work of peace at home and over seas the empire must remain powerful enough to defend at all times its national honor and its possessions as well as its just interests in the world. It is therefore my constant duty and care to maintain and strengthen, both on land and on sea, the defensive power of the German people, which does not lack young men capable of bearing arms. Measures with this end in view are in preparation and will be submitted to you together with proposals for covering the additional cost. In helping this important work, gentlemen, you will be greatly serving the fatherland.

The Agreement With France.

"In concluding our agreement with France we have given new proof of our readiness to settle international difficulties amicably whenever such a course is consonant with the dignity and interests of Germany.

"Side by side with the maintenance of our alliance with Austria-Hungary and Italy, my policy has been steadily directed toward the cultivation of friendly relations with all the powers on the basis of mutual respect and good will.

"Trusting in the healthy force of the German people and relying on God's gracious assistance, I look with confidence beyond the struggles of today to the future of the empire."

Beauty of Hair and Skin Destroyed

(Dr. de Werthe in The Graphic.)

"Washing the head makes the hair brittle, splits it, and causes streaky color. Dry shampooing with therox keeps the hair fluffy, clean and bright. Put a cupful of cornmeal in a fruit jar, add an original package of therox, and shake well. Sprinkle a spoonful on the head and brush through the hair once a week. This treatment makes hair grow long and abundant.

"Fine complexions are destroyed by powders that clog the pores and greasy creams that darken the skin. A genuine complexion beautifier can be made at home by dissolving an original package of mayatone in half a pint of witch hazel. Gently rub this solution over face, neck and arms in the morning and it will 'hold' all day. It will not rub off or show like powder and makes the skin soft, satiny and pliable.

"If you have chaps or cold scores or rough, red skin, apply Mother's Salve. It is antiseptic and healing, and is a splendid remedy for pimples, eczema, sores and skin afflictions."

FALSE ALARM OF DOROTHY ARNOLD

road conductor that he had frequently seen a young woman who answered Miss Arnold's description in every particular boarding the 8:14 train at Philadelphia for what he supposed were weekly shopping trips to New York.

The conductor notified Mr. Arnold that he would telegraph him when he saw the young woman board the train again. On the receipt of a message this morning Mr. Arnold and a detective went to the station while another detective went to Manhattan transfer in Jersey City. A search of the train failed to reveal the missing heiress.

Both Mrs. Arnold and John S. Keith, counsel for the family, joined in a statement that the girl had not been found and that they had no trace of her.

QUAKER CITY POLICE SURPRISED.

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The police authorities here say they know nothing of the presence of Dorothy Arnold in this city and were surprised when told that she had taken a train from here for her home in New York. The two leading detective agencies in this city also declared that they had no hand in the finding of the long missing girl.

At police headquarters it was said that a report was received there last night that Miss Arnold had been located but an investigation of the clue resulted in a report by the detectives that there was nothing in it. Miss Arnold is said to have departed from the North Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania railroad, which is in the outskirts of the city, and apparently nobody there at the time identified her.

Months ago reports were current that Miss Arnold was hiding in or near this city, one story being that she spent some time in a hospital. Other reports located her near Bryn Mawr, Pa., where is located the college from which Miss Arnold was graduated. None of these stories was verified and as far as is known nobody ever saw the girl in this vicinity.

Captain Cameron, of the city detective bureau, when told the story that Miss Arnold had left this city said that detectives last night found the girl who was said to be Miss Arnold and after a talk with her learned that she was not the missing woman. This girl, Captain Cameron said today, is still in the city. He declined to make public her name.

Story of Mysterious Case.

Dorothy Arnold disappeared from the home of her father, Francis R. Arnold, a wealthy importer, on East Seventy-ninth street, on Dec. 12, 1910, and the first public announcement that she was missing was made at headquarters on the night of January 25. Since that time until now, according to the legal representative of the Arnold family, not one word had been received from Miss Arnold nor had the family been able to find a single clue as to what had become of her.

In the six weeks interval between the day of her disappearance and the public announcement of it, private detectives, central office men and officers in many cities searched in vain for the missing girl. Descriptions of Miss Arnold, together with her pictures, were spread broadcast over the world and searches were made in every hospital, private as well as public, on two continents.

Friends of the missing girl sought to trace her, and some of her young men friends were investigated in the hopes that a romance might have been at the bottom of the case. George S. Griscom, of Pittsburg, to whom Miss Arnold had been reported engaged, returned from Florence, Italy, when he heard of the girl's disappearance. He joined in the search but finally gave it up as hopeless.

EATS CANDY FOR FIRST TIME.

Six year old Ida Couts, of Kendallville, who recently underwent an operation at St. Joseph's hospital for opening her throat, which had grown shut, and who previous to the operation had to be fed by means of a tube inserted in her stomach, is reported to be steadily improving. For the first time in her life the little girl has eaten candy, and has thoroughly enjoyed the sweets that the attending physician allowed her to have.

while, proceeded to a point a mile east of Hulburt, Ark. Then the robbers ransacked the postal car, blew open the safe in the Wells Fargo express car, gathered their plunder and made off in the darkness. They had obtained a good start at flight long before an alarm could be given. The telegraph wires into Memphis had been cut. The first intimation of danger to the train came to employes of the Rock Island at the western terminus of the Mississippi bridge. They heard heavy detonations, apparently from a point far in the country. The racket was made by explosions of ammunition that was destroyed when the combination baggage and express car burned after the safe had been blasted.

Police Find No Trail.

Recalling last November's hold-up, the Rock Island employes sent in a hurry call to the Memphis police. Quickly a switch engine was manned by a posse, but long before they reached the hold-up scene the robbers had vanished into the darkness of nearby woods.

A posse is searching the country about Hulburt and patrols have been stationed up and down the Mississippi river.

Rumors that the bandits secured unusually valuable plunder had not been verified early this forenoon.

The express company has given out no statement of its loss.

The membership committee of the Young Women's Christian association has been called to meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the association rooms.

ADJOURNS WITH DEADLOCK ON.

Philippine Assembly Fails to Pass Appropriations.

Manila, Feb. 7.—The extra session of the Philippine legislature came to an end at daybreak this morning, the deadlock on the appropriation bills not having been broken. The same thing happened in 1911. According to the law the old appropriations made by the legislature in 1910 as well as that of $250,000 voted for the erection of a building for the Philippines section at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco will go into effect. The session of the legislature was noteworthy on account of the attention paid by the assembly to economic measures although the controversy regarding the privileges of the two houses caused the defeat of many important bills. The first irrigation bills introduced in the Philippines were, however, enacted.

SORGUM M'COY SEEKS LIBERTY.

Alleged Bandit Convicted at Muncie Says He is Innocent.

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 7.—Timothy (Sorgum) McCoy, who is in the Michigan City prison, has written a letter to Judge Frank S. Ellis; protesting his innocence and asking Judge Ellis to assist him to freedom. McCoy was convicted of robbing, single handed, a Big Four passenger train coming into Muncie, causing most of its passengers to give up their money and jewels. The robber dismounted from the train almost in the center of the city and had a running fight with a passenger armed with a revolver.

McCoy had no money with which to bring witnesses in his behalf, but some of those who were on the train said McCoy was not the bandit. Others said McCoy was the robber.

BULLDOGS GUARD BODY.

Kept Police from Chamber of Suicide in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—Standing guard over the body of Edward Swan, 44, who committed suicide by swallowing acid during the night two bull dogs refused to let the police in the room when the man was found dead today. It was necessary for Mrs. Harry M. Perschbaucher, with whom Swan had roomed for several years to call the dogs into another room before the body could be taken in charge. Despondency over ill health was given as the cause. Swan's only brother committed suicide in the same manner some time ago.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 7.—Charles Brown, who was forced to take a bath and later ordered out of the city by the police, was a witness in the trial of Clyde Cooper for murder and when the state found he had been forced to leave the trial was halted and an attachment issued for him. The court told the police they were in contempt of court. Vigorous efforts are being made to find the man.

FIVE HURT IN RICHMOND WRECK.

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 7.—Five trainmen were injured when two freight trains on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad crashed head-on five miles south of Richmond early today. All the injured live at Peru. They were brought to Richmond where the attention of surgeons was given them and later left for Peru. Both locomotives were demolished and twenty cars piled up in the ditch.

POSTHUMOUS CHILD SHARES.

Judge at Winchester Construes Will in That Way.

Winchester, Ind., Feb. 7.—Judge James S. Engle, of the Randolph circuit court in this city, has construed the will of A. J. Anderson, who died at Union City, on motion of W. W. Ross, executor. A child was born soon after the death of Anderson. Anderson left a will and the question arose as to what interest the new-born child had in the estate of its father. Judge Engle held that the fact that a child was born after the death of the testator was no reason for the revoking of the will.

The child, in the opinion of the court, is provided for by the section of the will which says "that all the rest and residue of the estate after the bequest of the widow should be divided equally among the children of the testator."

There are about 250 men, women and children on Holland island.

From a Man's Viewpoint

By John W. Low

It isn't the vote we fear, my dears,
It isn't the vote we dread;
But the mannish air and parted hair
And out-of-my-way-there tread.
It isn't the vote we 'grudge, my dears,
But womanhood undefiled,
Maidenly grace and the gentle face—
The wife and home—and the child.

It isn't that you're not fit, my dears,
It isn't a point of worth;
But the driven snow is white, you know,
Till smirched in its fall to earth.
We love you just as you are, my dears,
With modesty's sweetness wiled;
'Tis the woman we want, not a vote to flaunt—
Just the wife and home—and the child.

It isn't that you're not wise, my dears,
It isn't at brains we balk;
But the homing dove is the bird we love,
Not the fierce and soaring hawk.
'Tis the God-given woman we want, my dears,
With innocence undefiled,
Not the hapless fate of an Amazon mate—
But a wife and home—and the child.

So we're leaving it all to you, my dears,
We're leaving it all to you;
If your hand unlocks the ballot box,
Will it rock the cradle, too?
If the vote you gain, will the heart remain
Unsullied and undefiled?
Then vote if you will—only leave us still
The wife and home—and the child!

GIVES BRILLIANT READING.

Prof. Clark Closes Series of Lecture-Readings and Is Engaged for Future Course.

More people than could find seats or even standing room in Elks hall gathered there last evening to attend the closing lecture-reading given in the course under the management of the Woman's League by Prof. S. H. Clark, of the University of Chicago. Interest in the course has been increasing at each of the six lectures, or lecture-readings, given by the brilliant speaker from Chicago. Elks hall proved a better centered place for the lecture and as the hall is an excellent one to speak in many single tickets were sold at the door. The reading concerned Victor Hugo's great novel, "Les Miserables," and students and story readers alike were entertained and instructed by the dramatic force and pathos with which Mr. Clark presented the character of Jean Valjean, both in explanation and reading. At the close of the lecture cards were distributed under the direction of Mrs. C. M. Dawson, president of the league, and to whose perseverance much of the success of bringing to public notice the course of lectures belongs, asking the wishes of the audience regarding having Prof. Clark give another series of similar entertainments in the city next winter. The response was positive and large enough to make the course a certainty. It is probable that a course of lectures on the drama will be selected.

NEW ORCHESTRAL EFFECTS.

Unique Instruments Will Be Heard in Production of "The Girl of the Golden West."

In order to achieve the desired effect in the orchestration of "The Girl of the Golden West," it has been necessary to invent several entirely unique instruments. Among these are the Fornaco, whose felt hammers turn certain handle which hit bars of tempered steel and produce a chord known as "B. E and B," and this chord in turn harmonizes with the theme sung by "Minnie" with wonderful effect, especially at the end of the first act. The Fornaco is used back of the scenes entirely. Another new instrument is the Celesta, a keyed instrument of beautiful tone played with leather covered hammers and frequently used by Puccini in combination with the harps. Still another is the extra large sized Glockenspeil, composed of nickle tubes and used with marvellous effect in the orchestral shadings. The tam tam, like unto a little Indian drum, and the special tambura (really an immense tambourine,) are also found essential in order to secure the proper effects in the opening of the second act, in the music of the Indian woman, Wowkle, and also the reference to the Spanish maiden, Mina Micheltorena.

CARE OF THE REFRIGERATOR.

A refrigerator should receive attention every day, as mischief is always at work there. Twice a week in hot weather and once in cold the inside should be well scrubbed with hot water, the shelves having been removed. In the water soda or borax should be dissolved.

Pieces of charcoal laid in the corners of the ice box help to keep the place clean and sweet, as charcoal absorbs odors and it can be easily replaced.

Do not put warm food in an ice box, as it not only helps to make the ice melt more quickly, but food often spoils by undergoing some chemical change. Neither should food be placed directly upon the ice. It is a mistake to think that meat, for instance, is safer directly next to the ice. The air above and below is sufficiently cold to keep it. Cold air sinks, therefore all sufficiently chilled air makes the chambers under the ice as cold as those above it.

Strong smelling things like onions, cheese and some fruits, like bananas and pineapple, should never be put in the refrigerator uncovered, as they at least taint the milk and butter. Milk, when kept in the refrigerator, should always be kept in a tightly closed bottle, as of all foods milk is the easiest to taint. Meat comes next, and after that butter.

Porcelain lined ice boxes are by far the best and easiest to keep clean and sweet. The escape pipe which carries off all the water from the melting ice becomes clogged about once in so often, and needs to be taken out and cleaned in scalding soda water. Often what appears to be a leaking ice box is only a clogged escape pipe. The water cannot pass through the pipe, so works its way through the framework of the refrigerator and suggests a leak.

If drinking water is kept in corked bottles on or near the ice it will be found to be as cold as iced water, and no ice will need to be added to it when served.

SIMPLICITY.

Satin in a pure white—not cream or ivory tinted—is used for some very graceful frocks of a singular austerity. Slightly draped around the figure with just a suggestion of Orientalism, this type of gown is made with long sleeves, a low waist line, trimmings and white pearl buttons, and wide lingerie collar and cuffs.

For a young girl a ninon or voile gown in soft, straight lines gives this note of simplicity also. It is trimmed with broad satin ribbon and has buttons of white satin.

DON'T BE THIN

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated.

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh-making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

Meyer Bros. Co., the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks a great many packages of Samose, every one with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and have had but one person ask for the money back. Meyer Bros. Co. Four drug stores.

ROOSEVELT GETS LA FOLLETTE MEN

BOOM IS COLLAPSED

Washington, Feb. 7.—That national headquarters will be opened soon in Chicago to promote the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency was the word that reached progressive United States senators today. Senator Borah, of Idaho, who is an ardent Roosevelt man, as well as a member of the executive committee of the republican national committee, was one of those having information that a great national organized movement is about to be started to put Col. Roosevelt in the white house for another four-year term, and that the campaign for his nomination will be directed from headquarters to be established in Chicago.

Senator Borah said he believed the report to be true as to the opening of headquarters, and he was certain that the Roosevelt movement, now that the La Follette boom has collapsed, will assume mammoth proportions.

All eyes are now turned to the meeting of Roosevelt followers to be held at Chicago next Saturday, which takes on great significance. It is now believed by progressives in congress that the Chicago meeting will mark the formal launching of the Roosevelt boom.

Roosevelt men from all over the country are arranging to attend the Chicago meeting. Among those who have notified friends here of their intention to go are at least half a dozen of the governors who recently came out for Roosevelt.

La Follette Men Free.

Senator La Follette's supporters in every state are now authoritatively released from any further allegiance to the Wisconsin candidate, and are expected to turn their influence in whatever direction promises the best results for the progressive cause. This is the exact meaning of the statement issued last night from La Follette's headquarters, as explained by Senator Bristow and other close friends of La Follette.

It means that La Follette is practically out of the running, but will stay in to hold the vote of Wisconsin for the progressives and to render whatever other assistance he can for the cause.

The great significance of his action is that he leaves the field clear for the selection of Roosevelt delegations in states where the preponderating sentiment is for Roosevelt. Indiana is cited by way of explaining the new rule of action laid down for the progressives who have been supporting La Follette. There the preponderance of sentiment among republicans, as developed by the Indianapolis Star's pool, is in favor of Roosevelt.

Slump to Roosevelt.

While LaFollette himself has not actually withdrawn from the race, the La Follette propaganda has been stopped with his consent and, where heretofore La Follette men have been active, Roosevelt organization will now spring into existence, in many cases manned by the identical men who have been working for La Follette.

Senator Borah and Senator Dixon, of Montana are openly at work for Roosevelt, and it is expected that during the next few days other United States senators who have been friendly to La Follette will come out for the former president.

The whole La Follette movement has slumped to Roosevelt, and, having made his fight for progressive principles rather than for personal gain, the Wisconsin senator is now willing that Roosevelt shall be nominated. Senator Bristow exhibited today the Kansas City Star's poll as showing the trend of sentiment in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Oklahoma. Of 85,003 votes cast Roosevelt has received 43,712; Taft, 5,172; La Follette, 5,187, and the remainder scattered among the various republicans and democrats spoken of for the presidency, Champ Clark receiving the highest number next to Roosevelt.

PENSIONERS IN FAVOR OF AGENCY

Indiana Veterans Do Not Want Indianapolis Office Abolished.

VOICING A PROTEST

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—A movement against the abolition of the local office of the pension agency in the federal building is gaining considerable impetus among pensioners of Indianapolis and throughout the state. Many pensioners who came to the postoffice yesterday to obtain their vouchers expressed themselves as unreservedly against the plan to abolish the seventeen branch offices as is provided in the bill which recently passed the house of representatives and now is being considered by the senate.

The protests of individual soldiers and Grand Army posts are emphatic in opposition to the proposed move. It is asserted that the obolishment of the local office with the other branches as proposed might discommode the veterans greatly in causing delays and uncertainties as to the time when they would receive their pensions.

The plan contemplates the payment of all pensioners direct from the agency in Washington, and it is contended that this arrangement, if practical at all, could not be put into effect without great inconvenience to the old soldiers.

Friends Enter Protest.

A considerable number of the protests also, are from friends of the pension agent and clerks employed at the pension agency, who would be thrown out of jobs under the new method of making payments. Heretofore, when the house has taken similar action, the senate has restored the legislation required to keep the agencies going. This year there is a less pronounced disposition to interfere with the decree of the house. Some senators who opposed the wiping out of the agencies heretofore are inclined to take the other course this year, having reached the conclusion that the fact that they have agencies in their states should not stand in the way of this economy program. The overwhelming vote in the house in favor of abolishing the agencies, there being only sixteen members opposed, has made an impression on the senate.

J. W. Dyer, pension officer in charge of the local office, said yesterday that he had received no information from the government authorities regarding the movement. He declined to discuss the matter.

WAY OF THINGS IN CHICAGO.

Prisoners Lost in County Jail for Months—Justices Are Cited for Misfeasance.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The "finding" of Tony Provost, who was "lost" in the county jail for over four months and who should have been liberated last September, has resulted in the liberation of three other prisoners whose "terms" have long ago expired. As a result at least three justices of the peace have been cited into court on charges of misfeasance and Judge Owen, in the county court, indicated that grand jury action may result from his investigation.

"It is an outrage that such things could happen in Cook county," declared the court. "But for an accident these men might have remained in jail indefinitely."

All the men had been sentenced to pay fines. They were given on credit for their "time" in the county jail, and should have been sent to the Bridewell, according to the court.

Other irregularities of the justices regarding the assessments of fines against the prisoners will also be investigated.

SPEAK AT INSTITUTES.

Fort Wayne People on Program at Farmers' Meetings.

Judge R. K. Erwin, of this city, was the principal speaker at the evening session of the joint institute held by Lake and Aboit township farmers at Arcola Tuesday evening, and Miss Edna Joker, of this city, gave a number of readings. During the afternoon E. P. Wood, division freight agent of the Pennsylvania lines here, discussed transportation problems before the institute.

The Madison township farmers' institute was held at Hoagland yesterday, and among the speakers were E. G. Hoffman and A. E. Houk, of this city. Both institutes were very successful.

GENERAL JAMES B. WEAVER DEAD

NOTED AS A RADICAL

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 7.—Gen. James B. Weaver, populist candidate for president in 1892, died yesterday. He was nearly 80 years old. He had been ill only a few days.

Gen. Weaver died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry C. Evans, at 1:15 p. m., following what was considered a permanent rally from the illness which attacked him several days ago. So sudden was the death that the friends of the aged veteran were shocked. Funeral arrangements probably will be announced tomorrow.

Twice Candidate for President.

Gen. Weaver, twice a candidate for president of the United States, was a native of Dayton, O., where he was born June 12, 1833. He came to Iowa with his parents in 1843, but later went to Cincinnati, where he graduated from the law school of the Ohio university in 1854.

When the civil war began he enlisted in the second Iowa infantry and was rapidly promoted through the battle of Fort Donelson, Shiloh and Corinth, in which he participated until he reached the post of colonel. He was breveted brigadier general in March, 1864.

Although he held federal positions, he did not come into national prominence until after his defeat as a republican candidate for governor of Iowa, in 1875, his successful opponent being Gov. Samuel Kirkwood.

Heads the "Greenback" Party.

Soon after he left the councils of the republican party and became one of the leaders of the national party, better known as the "Greenback" party, which in 1880 nominated him for president. In 1878, 1884, and 1886 he was in congress.

In 1892 Gen. Weaver was again nominated for president, this time by the people's (populist) party.

The object of the convention is to discuss methods of bettering conditions among the Polish people in the United States.

PARENTS HAVE A HOLD ON DOCTOR

Don't Have to Pay Him Unless He Reports Birth of Child.

DOING PRETTY WELL

Unless physicians report within thirty-six hours the birth of children they are called upon to aid in making their worldly debuts they can not hold parents for their fees in obstetrical cases.

This is not new but it is not generally known to the lay fraternity. Dr. Eric Crull stated today that conditions had been greatly improved by the enactment of the law providing that all births must be reported within thirty-six hours but that many of the doctors neglect this duty and he had in his possession today certificates that should have been in the office on Jan. 25.

The clause under which this enactment was passed is ingeniously worded and is put in as part of the means of prevention of blindness. Statistics show that in the public institution of the state for the care of the blind that sight could have been saved if the proper precautions had been taken at birth.

Dr. Crull says that a vast number of children are affected by prenatal infections that eventually destroy the sight and the law's contention is that by depriving the state of information as to whether or not proper precautions have been taken is criminal.

If opportunity were afforded, says Dr. Crull, to visit and administer to these babes within thirty-six to forty hours of birth all danger of blindness could be avoided. He is anxious to make a test case under the law and it is not unlikely that an affidavit will be filed with this in view.

CZAR CONFISCATES PAPERS.

Resents Attack on Reputed Mystic in High Favor at Court.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—The evening edition of the Novoe Vremya, a St. Petersburg newspaper, and the Octobrist organ Golosmesky, a Moscow publication, were confiscated last night for describing Gregory Rasputin, a reputed mystic who is wielding enormous influence at the court, as "a corruptor of bodies and souls." The recent exile of Bishop Hermogenes of the Saratov diocese and the reactionary priest Hellodorus, abbot of Tsaritsyn, is said to have been due to antagonism on the part of Rasputin. Boris Souverin, the editor of Novoe Vremya, it is announced, will be prosecuted on the charge of libel, which is punishment by a maximum of eight months' imprisonment.

AVIATOR EXCITES GOTHAM.

Alights on Hudson in Hydro-Aeroplane and Spectators Fear Tragedy.

New York, Feb. 7.—The first successful flight of a hydro-aeroplane in this section was seen late yesterday when Frank T. Coffyn ascended from the middle of the Hudson river near Twenty-third street, and flew about for sixteen minutes, up and down the river, at a height of 500 feet. The aviator made no public announcement of his plan, and when he alighted in the river amid floating cakes of ice, many on shore thought he had fallen. Preparations were making for his rescue when it was found that he was trying out a hydro-aeroplane. Half an hour later Coffyn made a second flight, but in a temperature below freezing he came down almost benumbed after a few minutes.

UNION MEN NOTICE!

Machinists and other skilled laborers all know it is essential to keep their hands soft and pliable. Read what a union glassblower, Joseph Harry, of Terre Haute, Ind., says: "I have been a glassblower for 20 years and have used hundreds of preparations to keep my hands in condition, but none of them compares with Plex. It heals soreness and burns immediately, smoothes the rough skin in one night, and keeps the hands pliable. Our house is never without Plex, and we find it handy to have around to prevent and cure croup, sore throat, catarrh or cold in the head. Believe me, it is a household necessity after you use a box or two of it and find how good it is for the many cases it is indicated for." A large box of Plex costs 10c; mammoth size, 25c. STORY DOES NOT HAVE TRUE RING

Somebody Says Bert Annis Will Depose Manager Ed Smith.

MILLER FOR PLACE

Under a Pittsburg date a story has been sent out to the effect that Bert Annis is negotiating with Jimmy "Rabbit" Miller to take Ed Smith's place as manager of his Grand Rapids club.

This story indicates that the club has changed ownership and that Miller has been sought out and asked to take the job. This club has not changed ownership in two years as it is the old South Bend team transplanted and the writer is apparently a little hazy about his knowledge of Central league conditions and locations.

Ed Smith showed good form as manager last season after he got the hang of things and he has been Bert Annis' confidential man all winter and there has been so far, nothing on the surface to indicate that the pitcher is to be deposed. The story is as follows:

"The owners of the Grand Rapids baseball club of the Central league are carrying on negotiations with Jimmy "Rabbit" Miller, the former Eastern and Pacific league player, who resides in this city, to manage the Michigan club during the coming season. The services of Miller were sought last fall by the owners of the Grand Rapids team and Miller would not considere the proposition unless he was given full control of the club. After the offer was made to Miller the ownership of the club changed hands and the question of employing a manager was left to the new owners. The new owners now want Miller to accept the position.

"Miller has had considerable experience in the capacity of manager and captain of minor league teams. When Ed Barrows, now president of the International league, was manager of the Montreal and Toronto teams, Miller was captain of those clubs. President Barrows always considered Miller a great leader. Miller was also captain of the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast league for two seasons.

"During the season of 1910 Miller was captain of the Lawrence team of the New England league, and last season he was bought from the Lawrence team by the Altoona team of the Tri-State league. Miller did not report to the Altoona team because of illness, and during last summer he coached and trained the champion Knoxville team of the Allegheny County league.

"As a manager Miller had charge of the Canton team of the O. and P. league and of the Washington team of the old P. O. M. league. During the season of 1901 Miller was a member of the New York Giants. He took part in the big league games until about the middle of that season when he was supplanted by Billy Gilbert, who played at the middle station for the Giants in 1904 and 1905."

ERIE READY FOR THE FINAL STEP

Will Organize Friday Night and Take Over the Base Ball Club.

THE OUTLOOK IS FINE

Erie, Pa., Feb. 7.—Baseball history will be made in Erie before the end of the week. Thursday night, at a dinner in the Boston Store, it is expected that the sale of the 500 season tickets will be announced, and Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce a meeting of the stockholders will be held, when permanent officers will be elected and an organization effected.

At the meeting of the baseball committee yesterday the sale of twenty-eight more season tickets was announced, making the approximate total to date, 330. This leaves 170 tickets to be sold before Thursday night. The committee composed of twenty-three hustlers, has been turned loose in the city and can solicit wherever each individual desires, instead of being confined to a certain territory, as formerly.

Three committees were chosen yesterday and each will have an important duty to fulfill. Charles Mertens, Thomas O'Connor and D. W. Harper were chosen to look over the available timber in the managerial line and report who, in their opinion, would make the best pilot for the team.

Marcus M. Marks, I. D. McQuistion and M. G. Johnson were chosen to look into the matter of a business manager for the team, one who will take care of the financial end of the club. One application is at hand, from Harry Smith of Columbus, who is recommended by Bobby Quinn, magnate.

The third committee is composed of J. Orin Waite, James Dickey and John A. Mayer. This committee will confer with Charles Mertens and Jacob Roth regarding the rental of Perry field and the numerous details connected with the leasing of the baseball plant.

"RUBE" MARQUARD IS NOW A HOLDOUT.

SPORTLETS

The Springfield team has booked a game with the Cubs for April 9.

George Edward Waddell has gone through the formality of signing a contract with the Minneapolis club.

Zanesville boosters have only about $600 to raise to bring the guarantee fund up to $5,000.

Eddie Murphy has offered to bet every cent he has that he will beat Packey McFarland at South Bend. He doesn't say, however, just how much of a cash balance he has.

Ed Smith has ordered his Grand Rapids players to report at Notre Dame on April 1. He is the only manager who has fixed reporting time before the schedule has been adopted.

The Detroit American league baseball team has announced receipt of the signed contracts of Pitcher "Tex" Covington and Outfielder Henry Perry. Covington was the eleventh pitcher to sign.

George Mullin has gone to Hot Springs to take off a lot of superfluous flesh and by the time the Detroit players line up at Monroe, La., he expects to show the young hurlers a merry clip.

Mrs. Kate Bowerman, wife of the veteran catcher, Frank Bowerman, has started suit against him at Mt. Clemens for divorce. She charges the catcher with unseemly conduct.

Enrico Caruso, who draws about $5,000 per night, offers to bet ten nights' wages that Raicevich, Italian, will win his wrestling bout with Zbyszko, the Pole, on February 12. He'll bet another week's salary, he says, that "Racy" can throw Frank Gotch.

That C. R. Williams, deposed president of the Virginia league, will fail in his attempt to interest the national commission in his troubles is the statement of President Carson of the Central league, who quotes the national agreement as the authority for his declaration.

Manager John McGraw of the Giants had a surprise sprung on him Saturday when he was informed that Pitcher Tesreau, bought from Toronto, was a spitball pitcher. McGraw, who is an anti when the spitball is mentioned, was of the opinion that Tesreau was a curver. Principal reason is that Chief Meyers cannot catch a spitter.

Harry Wolverton says he will stand pat on his catching staff now that he has bought Tonneman to help out Sweeney and Williams. Says he cannot imagine how Boston happened to let such a good receiver as Tonneman get away. He may discover the reason, however, before the season is far advanced. If anything happens to Sweeney, Wolverton may be calling for help.

Paul Strand, the rookie twirler of the Boston Red Sox, bids fair to be the youngest player in big league baseball this season. This lad, who stands six feet and one-half inch in his sox and weighs 160, is but 17 years old. He won five and lost nine games for the Spokane club of the Northwestern league, in 1911, and so impressed the Red Sox scout that he signed him immediately, paying the minor league club a fancy price for him.

PAULDING TEAM IS BOOKED.

St. Mary's Athletic Club Basketball Team Has Game.

Popularity of the sport has prompted St. Mary's Athletic club basketball team to book another game and on Sunday afternoon Paulding will be taken on at Odeon hall in the Saengerbund building. Paulding has a good team and the club has given St. Mary's fire trouble on more than one occasion and the battle promises to be most interesting.

This winter has seen the first attempt to put the game on as a public amusement here and it has proven very successful. Attendance has gradually increased until there is no longer any doubt about the stability of the game.

CONNIE MACK SARCASTIC

Connie Mack at times is the most sarcastic manager in baseball. On the face he has an easy-going disposition, yet he is one of the sternest disciplinarians in the game, although he is never apparently stern.

During the early days of the American league, Mack had as first baseman the veteran Charley Carr, who was recently appointed manager of the Kansas City team of the American association.

This was in 1901 and Mack was having a struggle to keep above water. He had a raw-boned youth named Plank on the mound one day. The Athletics played wretchedly, Plank's pitching being as bad as the Mackmen's fielding.

Carr was a particularly bad performer. After the giant third baseman dropped his third thrown ball, Mack became wild, but in a quiet way. He walted for Carr as he was walking to the bench. Taking a dime from his pocket, he handed it to Carr.

"Why, what's that for?" said Carr in surprise.

"It's carfare home," replied Mack coldly, "and take Plank with you."

Mack meant what he said, and didn't permit either Carr or Plank to play any more that day.

M'FARLAND HAD EYE BLACKED.

Aside From That He Is Feeling Fine After His Battle.

New York, Feb. 7.—Aside from the fact that he has a black eye as the result of two straight jabs from Kid Burns' glove in their argument last night, Packey McFarland is feeling fit and is ready for another short route event with some second rater.

He outboxed Burns all the way except in the ninth round and got the popular decision. He hit his man at will, but the fact that he hasn't a knockout in him was apparent at the mill.

FEW PLAYERS IN WITH CONTRACTS

New Stogie Owners Have a Task Before Them to Round Up Men.

OLD MEN UNSIGNED

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 7.—Few of the players on the Wheeling reserve list have attached their names to contracts for the season of 1912 and the new owners have a big task before them, but they are experienced and probably are equal to it.

Contracts have been sent to Roy Montgomery, Harry Welsher, Benny Jewell, Duke Servatius, Humphries, Hardy, Durham, Graham, Sager, Gray, Sents, Warrender, Garten, Murray, Fairbanks, Richardson, McCombs, Barron, Byrnes, Bemis, Weiss, Fogarty, Kelly and Murch, but none has responded.

They have until the first of March to get in the fold, but they will probably fall in line rapidly when it is announced that there will be a change in the ownership.

Pitchers Frank Beatty, Carlos Hammond and Lee Richey have signed, as have Fred Erven, an infielder, and J. E. Anderson, the manager. There is little probability that Montgomery will sign a contract unless it is with the understanding that he is to be sold or traded and in that event he will simply go through the formality to give the club owners a chance to realize on him in event there is an opportunity to dispose of him to advantage.

The fact that the club has changed hands after three most disastrous years, although one was a pennant winning season, has apparently injected new life into baseball and fandom is evidently prepared to get behind the new owners and boost them.

There is no more valuable territory in the Central league than the Wheeling holdings. Though not a large city of itself the attendance is drawn from Martin's Ferry, Benwood and half a dozen river towns that are to all intents part and parcel of Greater Wheeling.

There is another element that will enter into the matter. Wheeling fandom has always claimed there is plenty of red blood in it, but that the attendance was bad because the management was unpopular.

This objection has been eliminated and it's up to the fans to show that Wheeling is a baseball town and to remove the skepticism that exists all over the Central league where Wheeling sports are generally regarded as a poor lot.

E. V. Robinson and J. E. Anderson, his business associate, have had their heads together since the purchase of the team figuring just how they can patch up the weak spots. They need an experienced catcher and some outfield material along with a good pitcher or two to bolster them up, but they have the assurance of the other club owners that players will be turned over to them who are not found available in the big league.

Both of them entertain the hope that Jack Lewis will be back. If he is returned by Boston he will probably play the outfield on account of his batting and base running. Sandy Murray is slated for second and it looks like he is practically sure of his place.

SNYDER SIGNS CONTRACT.

Former Evansville Player Will Join Terre Haute Team.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 7.—Outfielder Jack Snyder, who last season played under Aggie Grant at Evansville, sent in his signed contract. Along with the document Snyder sent the word that he was well pleased with the figures and that he expected to be worth every dollar to the club next season. He said he was in good condition.

Snyder is well liked by Grant, who knows his caliber. The ex-Eva is fast in the field and on the paths, can hit close to .300 and knows the game from A to Z. Grant thinks that he will finally land in the majors should he keep up the gait he set at Evansville.

Terre Haute fans have seen Snyder in action and he was always a feared man at the plate when Evansville opposed the local club last season. He was especially good at the bit and run and could bunt to beat the band. Snyder was lead-off man under Grant at Evansville and will be considered for that berth next season.

BLOUNT SENDS IN CONTRACT.

Satisfied With Terms Offered Him by Owner Varnell.

Curley Blount is satisfied with the terms offered him by Owner Claude H. Varnell, and is the first of the regulars to fall in line for the season. He was out the latter part of the season and as his salary was paid for a month when he was of no service to the team he felt that he ought not give the management any trouble this year.

OLD PLAYERS HAVE SIGNED.

Grand Rapids Men Are Falling Into Line for Season.

Toddy Kroy and John Henry Meyers have signed their contracts with Grand Rapids for next year and Reilley, a catcher, is also in the fold. The terms offered Sheldon Lejuene have been accepted by him.

GRADUATED FROM A LIVERY STABLE

Al Palzer, Tom O'Rourke's white hope, who looms up as a championship possibility, is a big, good natured farmer's boy who was discovered in St. Paul, Minn.

Three years ago Palzer could be found with the handles of a plow in his vise-like grip. The boxing game was given very little thought at that time, only perhaps for friendly encounters.

These little friendly exhibitions really brought about Palzer's rise as his good work with the gloves was brought to the attention of some ring sharps. But it wasn't until Al lost his job on the farm that he began to take himself seriously. His first job after leaving the farm was in a livery stable. Here Al met with the usual treatment and many times he was obliged to use his fists to keep his job. For three years he went along, boxing in St. Paul and surrounding suburbs in three-round exhibitions. It came natural to the big fellow to be fast and his hard hitting was always spoken of by onlookers.

In his first real ring fight Palzer made a sorrowful showing. He was not discouraged, however, and after a few more bouts against fairly good men he learned to handle himself very well. In the spring of 1910 Palzer boxed a three-round exhibition bout with Jack Johnson, who at that time was touring the country in vaudeville. A boxing promoter and manager named Kennedy took hold of Palzer at this period, and while Al's climb has been slow, his work has been consistent.

His first bouts in New York were nothing to boast of, but still the big fellow held out that he could fight. His determination to make good drew the attention of several of the wise fight critics in Gotham and now Palzer is under the direction of Tom O'Rourke, the well-known manager. Under O'Rourke Palzer has certainly become a formidable candidate for heavyweight honors. When the St. Paul man put the knockout punch over on Al Kaufman he won for himself the right to enter the class of legitimate white hopes.

Palzer may not be possessed of the necessary metal for a world's champion, but under the handling of his new manager he ought to be brought to a point from which some day he may be able to reach out for the heavyweight crown.

Jim Corbett, the ex-heavyweight champion, is deeply impressed with the work of Palzer. Corbett recently said: "They will have to hunt hard for a white man who can lick Palzer."

GOOD NEWS

CURES OLD SORES

To every person suffering with an old sore or chronic ulcer, the very best news in this paper is contained in the present article. It is good news because it is true; it tells of a way to get rid of these plague spots which so often sap the strength and vitality, and best of all, this permanent cure is in reach of every one.

It is an absolutely true statement to say that every old sore or chronic ulcer exists solely because of bad blood. Outside contaminations or influences may increase the local inflammation, but such things have nothing to do with keeping the place open. It is the infected blood discharging its impurities through a weak spot on the flesh that does this, and the sore will continue, gradually growing worse, until the blood is purified of the exciting cause.

See how nature points to the cause through the symptoms. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that external applications never have any curative effect on the sore, show that deep down in the circulation there is a morbid cause which prevents the place from healing. But more convincing proof that bad blood is responsible for old sores, is furnished by the fact that even removing every visible trace of the ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; the sore always returns.

S. S. S. heals old sores because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers; it goes into the circulation and removes the cause from the blood. When the blood has been purified there is no longer any inflammatory or infectious matter to irritate the place and nature causes a natural and certain healing of the ulcer. When S. S. S. has cleansed the circulation and the place is well, it is not a surface cure, not simply a smoothing over of the outward evidence, but it is a perfect and permanent cure, because every vestige of the old cause has been driven out. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, cleansing and invigorating in their nature, and of great tonic value. It is a medicine adapted to persons of any age, and is just as effective with the old as with the young or middle aged. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is greatly strengthened and benefited. To hear of S. S. S. has been good news to thousands, it is good news for you.

If you wish any special advice about an old sore or ulcer write for our free book, and ask our medical department to give any instructions you may feel the need of. No charge for the book or advice. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

RECOLLECTIONS OF DICKENS AND SCENES MADE FAMOUS IN HIS WRITINGS

CHARLES DICKENS AT HOME.

By STEPHEN FISKE.

Dickens was very happy at Gad's Hill. When a boy, tramping with his father from London to Rochester, he had stopped before the pretty house and exclaimed, "There I shall live when I get to be a man!" The fulfilment of his prophecy seemed to Dickens like the happy ending to one of his own fairy tales. Besides, the place was holy ground to him, for it had been trodden by the feet of Shakespeare and was a resort of Falstaff, Poins, Peto, Pistol and Bardolph. In the hall a painted panel read, "This is Gadshill, of which Sir John Falstaff said"—and the quotation from "Henry the Fourth" follows.

There was only one other residence in all England that Dickens preferred to Gad's Hill. His favorite walk was to Rochester, and he would stand for hours viewing the ruined castle; rebuilding and repairing it; repeopling it with the kings and queens, lords and ladies who had lived within its massive walls. One day he said:

"If I could only have this old castle to live in I would refit part of it at my own expense and keep it open to the public on certain days or hours. It would not cost so very much. I have made the calculations. But this is one of my dreams that will never come true!"

While Dickens was lecturing in America I obtained an interview with another great novelist, Disraeli, then premier of Great Britain, and told him this story. He replied promptly and emphatically, "There is nothing in the kingdom that Mr. Dickens cannot have if he wants it. Tell him to forward a formal request to be appointed custodian of Rochester castle, and he shall receive his commission from her gracious majesty, who will be as pleased as I am to accede to his wishes."

Thus, within a year, the dream of Rochester castle would have been realized had not Dickens died untimely.

Gad's Hill is a small, stone parsonage, sweet with flowers. To the left of the central hall—which was hung with scenes painted by Stansfield for amateur performances—were the reception and diningrooms. On the right were the library and billiard room. On a side door was the notice, "This leads to the kitchen; please keep closed."

Placards, labels and signs were peculiarities of the house. In the sleeping rooms were benches lettered in black, "For trunk," "For portmanteau." Dickens laughed as he explained, "Yes; everything that can be labeled is labeled. I used to be the most careless of men, and had to cure myself as my work increased. Now I am a martinet. Breakfast at 9 sharp dinner at 7 sharp. Otherwise this is Liberty hall!"

The room best known to the public is the library, because of the picture by Luke Fildes, called "The Vacant Chair," which has brought tears to many eyes. But, so far as Dickens was concerned, that chair had always been vacant. It was for the accommodation of guests. He never used it, except to write the most casual notes. "How could I write works in a library," he exclaimed, "with all those volumes glaring at me and muttering, 'What! Another?'"

The books on the lowest shelf of the library were dummies, with titles selected by such London humorists as Albert Smith, Mark Lemon, Edmund Yates and Andrew Halliday. "Lives of the Poets" was so thin that there was scarcely room for the title on the back. "Five Minutes in India, by an Englishman," was in five portly volumes. "Eggs an Bacon" caricatured "Coke on Littleton." Dickens recalled the authors of all the dummies and would roll on the floor with glee as he told about them.

His important writing was done in a large bedroom upstairs or in a chalet on the opposite side of the road, connected with Gad's Hill by a tunnel cut through the chalk soil, so that Dickens might pass to and fro without encountering the scores of admirers who stopped before his house daily to catch a glimpse of their idol.

The chalet was presented to him by Charles Fechter, the famous French actor, who saw it at the Paris exposition. It arrived at Gad's Hill in sections, carefully numbered and boxed. Dickens had the boxes strewn carelessly over the lawn, and, when Fechter arrived, asked him anxiously, "Why have you sent me this lumber?" "Ciel!" cried Fechter, "but I have been swindled! They told me they would send you a Swiss chalet to write in!"

I never knew any visitor to be admitted to this chalet. In it Dickens was as secluded as at a hospice on the Alps. There was no special view to distress his attention from his work—only the meadows, the woods of Darnley park and the changing sky. He had four regular working hours, and no day laborer was more punctual. His vacations were his lecturing tours.

In the centenary notices too little has been said of the fact that Dickens was always a journalist; first as a reporter on the True Sun and the Morning Chronicle; then as editor of the Daily News and of Household Words, and to the end of his life as editor and proprietor of All the Year Round. He was not a mere figurehead. His editorial duties were performed most conscientiously and—alas! for its rarity!—most sympathetically. He read all the proofs, and would write upon them, "Should not this revelation be reserved until nearer the close of the story?" "Have omitted this as superfluous." "Better to put this into dialogue form." When he changed the heading of an article upon a "Baby Show at Woolwich" to "Woolwich Infants," he wrote, "More taking." His cheque was always mailed on the day of publication and was for more money than the exact price per word or page.

On an anniversary of the Henrietta yacht race he asked an American correspondent for a more intimate account of the voyage than the report in the London Times, saying: "Tell us how it felt to be alone on the ocean in December; what you did to pass the time on such a little craft, etc." The article was sent with an apology for being much too long, as the writer had no time to condense it.

"Not a line, not a word, must be cut," he replied; "I will give the 'Henrietta' plenty of searoom." He gave the story eight out of the sixteen pages of All the Year Round, and told me that it had sold thousands of extra copies.

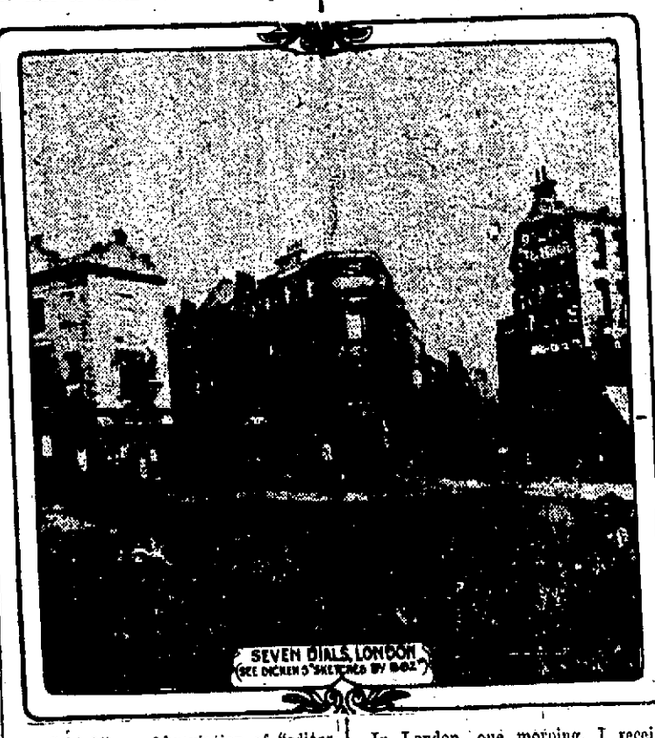
He published serials by other popular novelists—Wilkie, Collins, Charles Reade, Edmund Yates, Anthony Trollope—and paid for them most liberally.

The Dickens manuscripts were written in blue ink, and this because a fad of what used to be called "the Dickens school of writers." Though he never mentioned his immortal characters, and turned the conversation immediately if Pecksniff, or Sam Weller, or Mr. Dombey happened to be quoted, I ventured to ask him if he enjoyed his creations as much as his readers did. "Certainly," he said; "I always have the first laugh and the first cry!"

Having thus broached a forbidden subject, Dickens was induced to show me the original manuscripts of some of his novels and to explain his method of composition. There were no interlineations, afterthoughts, changes of expression, as in Balzac's manuscripts. If a word or phrase were altered the change was made after, not above, the first text, nor on the margin. He said that, when he had selected and named a hero, he would jot down memoranda about him—"Shall he be rich?" "The property in chancery?" "An old aunt or uncle?" In this, as in everything else, he was very methodical. But his works show no traces of these aids to imagination.

Gad's Hill was only an appanage of the large, adjoining estate of the Earl of Darnley, but it carried with it the title of lord of the manor, of which Dickens was secretly proud, and the office of justice of the peace. But he refused repeated invitations to submerge himself, like Disraeli, in the peerage. The title of which he was most proud was "chief," as abbreviation of "editor-in-chief," and he was thus addressed by his intimates.

He would not talk of his own creations, but he frequently referred to those of other authors. On a visit to Darnley Hall we noticed among the family portraits, dating from the crusaders, that of a golden-haired boy, dressed in black velvet, and, lo! a perfect duplicate of that boy, the likeness reproduced after generations, walked into the picture gallery to welcome us. "What a story that would make for Charles Reade!" exclaimed Dickens enthusiastically; "I shall tell him about it."



Upon a miniature scale, but with ample means, Dickens maintained at Gad's Hill the estate of an old English country house. Miss Georgina Hogarth, his sister-in-law, was his housekeeper. He had an excellent chef. The dinners were very elaborate, with seven courses and a different wine with each course. Almost every day there were distinguished guests, coming from all parts of the world, and often the entire conversation was in French, which Dickens spoke as fluently as his friend Fechter.

Choosing the wines for the dinner was an afternoon festival. Seated astride a barrel, in the cool cellar carved from the chalk rock, Dickens told a good story with every bottle selected and fairly revelled in boyish humor. The intense vitality of his novels glowed through his personality.

After dinner the guests were invited to taste the bowl of cold punch that Miss Hogarth had prepared in the central hall. Then there was whist or billiards, which Dickens turned into a comedy by a constantly comic commentary upon the play and players. He grumbled to himself, "Well! Bad players always win!" or, "It is very easy to play when one holds all the trumps!"

On my first visit he remarked airily, "I suppose that the aristocratic custom of leaving all the winnings on the table for the servants has been adopted in America?"

"Don't mind him," Miss Hogarth interposed; "he is always like that!"

The housekeeping at Gad's hill was managed so perfectly that, except at dinner, I never saw a servant there. Miss Hogarth, as methodical as Dickens himself, seemed to do everything.

In London, one morning, I received the following note:

Shipmate, ahoy! How am I to entertain an American who neither eats, drinks, smokes, chews nor swears? Please to man the lifeboat and come at once. C. D.

Arriving at Gad's Hill, I found Mr. George Washington Childs, of Philadelphia, beaming with contentment and requiring no other amusement than the pleasure of being with Dickens. At dinner Mr. Childs ate little and drank nothing but water, and Dickens slyly pretended to shudder with horror every time his own glass was filled. Persisting that Mr. Childs must be amused, Mr. Dickens asked him to play a game of billiards. Mr. Childs did not play billiards, and Dickens proposed "a grand international pool tournament," his son Charles representing England. With such argument—"Custom of the country" and so on—and much persuasion, Mr. Childs was induced to back me as the American champion for half a crown (sixty cents), and was appointed umpire as soon as he declared that he knew nothing about the game.

Dickens was marker, and shouted after every break, "Two for the American eagle! Fluke!" "Three for the British lion! Hooray!"

By good work the American eagle won. The clock struck ten, and Mr. Childs said that he always went to bed at ten o'clock. So Dickens, with a low bow and a countenance expressing the deepest sorrow and despair, handed him the two half crowns. It was all like a scene from "Pickwick," and, as the door closed upon Mr. Childs, we continued the similarity by holding hands and dancing around the table.

Presently the door opened and Mr. Childs reappeared with his bedroom candle and the two half crowns. In a speech that was so sincere as to be dignified, he said that never before had he been guilty of gambling; that, when he attempted to say his prayers, the two half crowns weighed upon his mind and interfered with his devotions; he must ask Mr. Dickens to take back the money.

Dickens regarded Mr. Childs very gravely. Was this a joke or a too sensitive conscience? Then he explained at great length that the customs of England did not permit him to take back the half crowns, but that he would consent to wager double or quits until the British lion had won. Mr. Childs agreed to this, under protest, and Dickens gave us an audacious wink, which meant, "Put five shillings on his conscience!"

Young Charles tried his best to lose the game; but the balls sympathized with Mr. Childs and the British lion was victorious. When Mr. Childs, relieved of his gambling gains, had retired smilingly, Dickens asked, "Is it possible? Have I been dreaming? And yet he is a great man! He has done wonderful things!"

None of the portraits published resembled Dickens at the prime of life and the height of his fame. He looked like a retired sea-captain, and had an alertness and vigor that suggested "Heave ahead my hearties!" This suggestion was heightened by his ruddy, weather-beaten face, his grizzled, foam-flecked hair and beard, and his keen, calm, serious eyes that seemed to reflect the wonders of the deep. He had a brother, Frederick Dickens, who looked so like him that I had often thought they were twins—the same sailor-like face and manner, the same talent as an amateur actor, but with no literary ability. It was curious to study the two brothers, exactly alike, but one lacking the inspiration of genius, as if nature had created duplicates and then decided to endow Charles, instead of Frederick.

The world knows Dickens as a writer, but as an oral story-teller he was even more marvelous. He told stories almost as constantly as Lincoln or Scheherezade, but they had a mysterious peculiarity. Remember them—repeat them word for word—and they had lost their magic. For example, when we were a small family party at Gad's Hill, we would coax Dickens to tell us the story of the "Woman with the Red Shawl." He had dreamed of a woman who wore a red shawl, and at night, going home after his lecture, he had met the identical woman, wearing the same red shawl as in his dream. There was nothing very remarkable in such an incident; but, as Dickens told it, the story interested, amused and thrilled us, though we had heard it over and over again.

He talked with such a quaint precision, such an undertone of fun, wit and satire, that it seemed as if he might have saved himself many weary hours by dictating his novels to a stenographer.

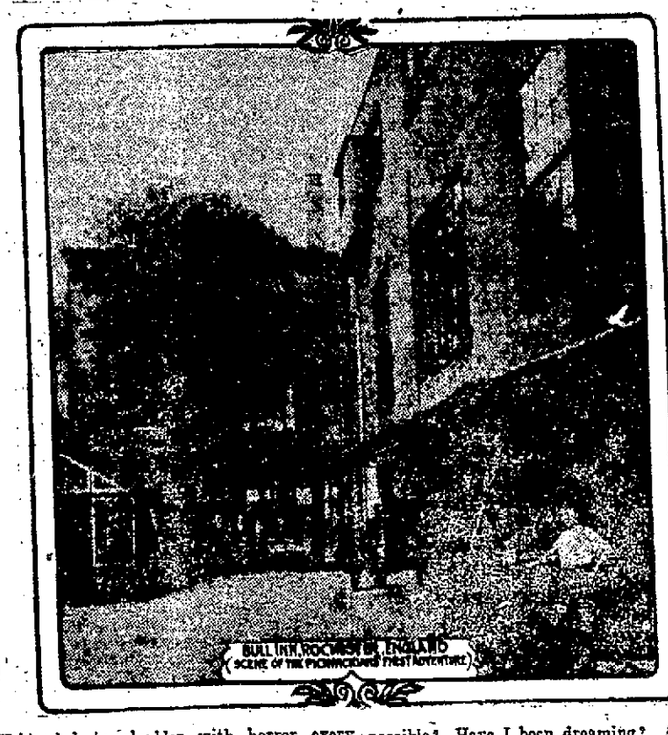
Across the road, but within the manor of Gad's Hill, and under the jurisdiction of Dickens as landlord and as justice of peace, was a country tavern, originally called "The Jolly Plow Boy," but rechristened "Sir John Falstaff's Inn." One night there was a disturbance in the tavern, and we went over in a body, Dickens leading, to investigate it. Among a party of rough fellows was a man with blood streaming down his face, and he said that the landlord had struck him with a pewter pot.

"Did you strike this man?" asked Dickens sternly.

"Vell, sir," replied the landlord, "vether Hi 'it that mon on the 'ed with a pewter pot hit his not for the likes of me to say, sir; but the himpression on my mind his that Hi did not."

"Well, sir," retorted Dickens judicially, "whether you hit that man on the head with a pewter pot it is not for me to say; but the impression on his head is that you did!"

Dickens left no memoranda from which the plot of his uncompleted novel, "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," could be discovered. But, before writing this novel, he told me of a plot which he was considering. Pointing to a building on the bank of the Thames, he said: "That is our Poor House. A well-to-do overseer put his father into that house under an assumed name. The old man revealed his identity to the board of managers, and they sent him back to his son, whom they threatened to prosecute for fraud. Angry, mean and alarmed, the overseer put the father into a buggy and drove into the river, here at this spot. His intention evidently was to drown his father and pretend there had been an accident. But the father clung to him and both were drowned. The overseer had taken out insurance policies upon his own life and that of his father and distant relatives applied for the money. The insurance company refused to pay. Litigation ensued, and the court decided that the policy upon the father was void, because he had been deliberately murdered, but the policy upon the son must be paid, because he had not intended to commit suicide. There are hundreds of such ready-made plots in British jurisprudence."



Dr. E. W. Dodez will read a paper at the meeting of the Isaac Knapp Dental coterie tomorrow evening, and Dr. W. W. Shryock and Dr. J. S. McCurdy will report on the dental convention recently held in Chicago.

LOTS OF SOFT, FLUFFY, LUSTROUS HAIR AND NEVER ANY DANDRUFF

Double the Beauty of Your Hair in Ten Minutes With a Little Danderine.

When you see a head of heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you can at once conclude that this man or woman is using Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately destroys and dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

TO ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL

Fireman Zelt Will Undergo Electrical Treatment There.

EXPLOSION VICTIM HAS NOT IMPROVED

E. P. Galland Badly Hurt in a Fall in the Shops.

Herman F. W. Zelt, the Pennsylvania fireman who was so severely injured by the locomotive boiler explosion near Lima, Ohio, several months ago, will enter St. Joseph's hospital in a day or two to undergo electrical treatment in the hopes that it will hasten recovery. Mr. Zelt is in no worse condition than he has been during the past two or three months, but he does not improve as rapidly as the surgeons would like and hence the decision to try another treatment. Dr. C. B. Stemen went to Chicago this morning to get the electrical apparatus for this case that could not be supplied here. Mr. Zelt was confined in the Lima hospital a number of weeks after the accident, but was brought home about a month ago and has since been at the residence of his sister. His wife has been constantly at his side since the accident.

SOUTH LOOKS GOOD.

Many People Are Going There This Week.

To the man or woman who does not like zero weather, the south looks good at present and many are leaving for that section of the country. In fact, travel to Florida and other southern states is greater at present than at any other period in the history of railroads. Yesterday the Pennsylvania carried several parties out of this city who are going to Florida, Georgia and Texas. The several parties made a total of thirty. The Lake Erie and Western also had twelve or fifteen passengers out of Fort Wayne who are going to points in Alabama, Georgia and Florida, and today sold several "all-year tourists'" tickets to Hot Springs, Ark. New Orleans will soon be the objective point for a number of people from this part of the country, the attraction being the mardi gras. The selling dates for this business are February 12 to 18, inclusive. Prospective travelers have already commenced making inquiries concerning the mardi gras rates.

MACHINIST BADLY HURT.

Eugene P. Galland Fell From Ladder in the Shops.

While in the act of descending a ladder from the top of a boiler in the Pennsylvania shops at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Machinist Eugene P. Galland was precipitated to the floor. He struck against a pile of wooden blocks and severely sprained his right ankle and dislocated the fourth finger of his left hand. He was also painfully bruised about the body and for awhile it was thought that he had sustained the fracture of some ribs. A hack was called and the injured man sent to St. Joseph hospital, where the company's surgeons are attending him.

STRUCK WITH SHAKER BAR.

Fireman Bert R. Garver Painfully Hurt Tuesday.

Bert R. Garver, a Nickel Plate fireman, was brought to the city last night, suffering with injuries sustained when he was struck by the shaker bar of his engine while operating it. The bar slipped and struck Mr. Garver a terrific blow in the face, cutting the flesh near the eyes and loosening several of his teeth. He was taken to his home, 828 Wilt street, where he is being attended by Dr. Frank I. Dinnen, the company's surgeon.

PRINTING COSTS MILLIONS.

L. C. Fitch, chief engineer of the Chicago Great Western, says railway companies would save money were they to establish plants for doing their own printing. In a communication to the Railway Age Gazette, Mr. Fitch says that the requirements imposed upon the railways by commissions of various kinds annually cost the companies millions of dollars, much of which is absolute waste, but a waste which the carriers are powerless to control. Mr. Fitch says that during the year 1909 the railways of the country spent $16,500,000 for stationery and printing, which was $500,000 more than was spent for steel rails that year. Much of this expense was to meet the requirements for the publication and circulation and national laws bearing upon certain work, much of which, Mr. Fitch declares, is worthless.

PAINTERS WON'T MOVE.

The headquarters of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America will remain in Lafayette for two years at least. There were seven bids in competition to Lafayette and some of them offered inducements that they thought were irresistible, but Lafayette won out and a two-year lease has been made for office rooms. This deal also involves the location of the office of the Painters' Journal, which has a circulation of upwards of 70,000, going to all parts of the country. Thirty people are employed at the brotherhood headquarters and it is said that the expenditures annually amount to $50,000. The brotherhood has a membership of 75,000, which is 47,000 more than it had ten years ago. The officials look for a greater growth in the next two years.

RETURNS TO DETROIT.

Engineer and Mrs. Charles W. Bates have returned to their home in Detroit, after a pleasant visit with his mother, Mrs. L. Bates, of Taylor street, and other relatives and friends. Their daughter, Miss Hester, was with them. Engineer Bates was a member of the Bob-o'-Link club and came here in part to attend a reunion of the club. He is employed on the Detroit division of the Wabash now, but formerly ran on this division of the system and was once a resident of Fort Wayne.

VISITING HIS FATHER.

A. D. Kemp, of Chicago, has been spending a few days with his father, Foreman M. W. Kemp, of the Pennsylvania lumber yards, and other relatives. The visitor was employed in a clerical capacity at the Pennsylvania shops for a year or so immediately following the completion of his education at the schools and is known to very many of the shopmen. He is now employed by the H. H. Hettler Lumber company, of Chicago.

PAID OUT $11,659.25.

During the month of December the Pennsylvania Relief association allowed to members $11,659.25 to 651 claimants on the Western division of the system. This sum was distributed as follows: Two accidental deaths, $250; seven deaths from natural causes, $3,000; 300 personal injury cases, $2,745.25; 342 cases of natural sickness, $5,664.

BECOMES PRICE CLERK.

Paul Johnston has received promotion at the hands of Division Storekeeper H. W. Hurst, of the Wabash, where he was employed for some time as "casting man." He has gone into the storehouse as price clerk.

M. P. O'Conner has taken employment as a machinist's helper at the Wabash shops.

PENNSYLVANIA PAY CAR.

The Pennsylvania paymaster will spend Sunday in Fort Wayne on the occasion of his February visit here. He will come in Saturday, the 17th, and remain until Tuesday morning, the 20th, making Monday the chief pay day for the shopmen. January was a busy month on the road and in the shops and the cash distribution will be large.

OUT ON BUSINESS.

Supt. W. M. Wardrop, Division Engineer F. M. Graham, Division Freight Agent E. T. Wood and Signal Supervisor C. L. Bartholome, of the Pennsylvania, are out on the west end of the line today looking after some business at Gary and Hobart. They went on the division special train.

EMPLOYES TO BE PHOTOGRAPHED.

Bulletins requesting all of the factory employes of the Fort Wayne Electric works to line up on the south side of the office building at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to be photographed have been posted. There will be upwards of 1,200 faces in the picture.

OLD EMPLOYE IS SICK.

Joseph P. Leitz, one of the oldest employes in point of service in the shipping department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, is quite sick with the grip. This is a new experience for Mr. Leitz; as he has not been off duty on account of sickness for a number of years.

ORDERS MORE EQUIPMENT.

The Wabash receivers have ordered ten passenger engines, ten freight engines and ten switch engines, in addition to the twenty-five now being built at the American Locomotive works. Orders for twenty passenger cars and 3,000 freight cars will be placed in a few days.

STEEL CHIPS IN THE EYES.

J. J. Danehy, a machinist in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, had the ball of one of his eyes cut last night when a chip of steel flew in the optic. He was attended by Dr. R. P. White. A similar accident happened to H. A. Baals, of the boiler shop, who was also attended by the company's oculist.

HAD THUMB MASHED.

Tony Rosin had one of his thumbs badly crushed at 7:30 o'clock last night, while he was loading some locomotive siderods on a push cart in the Pennsylvania erecting shop. The digit got between two of the rods as they were being handled.

WAS SIXTY-SIX TODAY.

Ernest Lenz, who has been employed at the Pennsylvania shops over a third of a century, was sixty-six years old today. He worked as usual, operating the saw which has been his duty for so many years.

HAVE RETURNED TO DUTY.

Engineers C. M. Somers, E. J. Crowley, C. L. Jourdan and E. W. Nestle resumed work on the Pennsylvania today. Mr. Nestle had been sick over a week and the others were sick two or three days.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

E. K. Green, crane operator in the Pennsylvania machine shop, is sick and off duty.

C. E. Schnee, car distributer, is back at his desk in the G. R. & I. office, after being sick a week.

R. J. Fisher left yesterday for Baltimore, Md., on business for the Bass Foundry and Machine company.

R. B. Chapman, a signal repairman for the Pennsylvania, resigned this morning and will engage in other work.

After an illness of four days Denis O'Connera resumed work in the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

L. H. Lepper and T. R. Mueller, who had been sick, resumed their duties at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning.

M. L. Lauer, J. H. W. Saalsfrank, R. W. Shaw, F. N. Hausbach and J. Munro, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Engineer Thomas R. Hunt has a sick child and Fireman H. B. Allerton's wife is sick and they are not on duty on the Pennsylvania as a result.

Engineers William Krauss and George R. Childs and Firemen Harry Clapper and Herbert Schultz, of the Pennsylvania, are sick and off duty.

Operator C. A. Douart, of the dispatcher's room of the G. R. & I., was presented with a twelve pound son last night. This is the first son in the family.

Machinist Henry Regel is absent from the lay-out table at the Pennsylvania shops on account of an injured wrist. He fell a week ago and sprained the wrist.

Engineer W. A. Heidrich, of the Pennsylvania power plant, has an affection of the eyes which is keeping him from work. The malady has the appearance of a cataract.

Dr. E. F. Wagner, Pennsylvania relief physician, who is recovering from a surgical operation, is doing fine now and will be down to his office soon. He is now at his home, 131 East Taber street.

The foreman and clerks at the Wabash shops, freight house and passenger station received their wages this morning. The paymaster will be here next week to pay the other employes.

The Soo line will, it is said, expend $1,000,000 for passenger coaches and freight cars this year. The company also contemplates extending its lines from Drake to Fordville, N. Da., a distance of 200 miles, this year.

A. C. Ridgeway has been elected second vice president of the Rock Island, succeeding F. O. Melcher, who was one of the victims of the Kimmundy disaster, in which four well known railway men lost their lives.

Bellevue Gazette: "Nickel Plate Engineer Ralph Lopeman has been transferred from yard service in this city to his former position in the road service, taking up duty on the Fort Wayne division between Fort Wayne and Bellevue."

William Schultz, the lamp man in the signal department of the Pennsylvania, is able to be out and called at the signal office to see his associates yesterday. He will probably be able to report for duty in a few days. He has been quite sick.

The condition of Machinist Henry Knoll, of the Wabash shops, who has been very sick for two weeks, is slightly improved, and his physician believes he will soon recover, though he is still bedfast. Mr. Knoll, in point of service, is one of the old men at the Wabash shops.

Following the decision of the United States supreme court of appeals of New York in the case of a boy who was injured while crossing the tracks, the attitude of the government toward railroads is taken to be that a railroad must signal when approaching a place where people customarily cross, whether it is a public crossing or not. A verdict of $31,000 was rendered in favor of the boy and the higher court sustained this judgment.

PHYSICIANS PAY TRIBUTE.

Adopt Memorial to Late Dr. Hiram Van Sweringen.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen, Dr. K. K. Wheelock and Dr. Maurice Rosenthal, as a committee, reported the following memorial to the late Dr. Hiram Van Sweringen to the Fort Wayne Medical society Tuesday evening, which was adopted:

Dr. Hiram Van Sweringen was born October 5, 1844, at Navarre, O., and passed away on the morning of February 1, 1912, at Fort Wayne, Ind.

He had been a member of the Fort Wayne Medical society since he began the practice of medicine and in its earlier history contributed much to its success.

He was a man of achievement in the intellectual and moral world, brave and sincere. When he laid down his life, his work was finished and he was satisfied. No vain regrets fretted his soul and when the summons came he met it as "one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." In his activities he aimed for the highest and the best and stood blameless before his fellow man, leaving the priceless legacy to his posterity of honor, character and intellectual potency. For himself he had solved Job's eternal query, "if a man die shall he live again?" and those who saw him in the last days of his life were not uncertain that "wrapt in clear dream and solemn vision" he did not see into things unseen.

We all remember that face, clear cut as a cameo, with eyes gleaming with intelligence, voice cheery with friendly greeting. His was a life of great responsibilities and he accepted them with confidence and bore them with fidelity.

He was ever faithful in the discharge of his duty to his patients and ever friendly to his medical confreres but he never sacrificed his patient's good to false ethics.

We deplore his taking away both in his relation as a neighbor and as a member of this society; and be it

Resolved, That the members of the Fort Wayne Medical society extend their sincere sympathy to the wife and children who are deprived of his guidance, counsel and companionship; and be it further

Resolved, That they cause these resolutions to be spread upon the minutes of their society, published in the daily press and a copy of the same to be sent to the family.

STARTS ROOSEVELT CLUB.

Evansville Attorney Declares People Are Opposed to Taft.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 7.—Steps were taken today by Samuel Crumbaker, a prominent attorney and former state senator, for the organization of a Roosevelt club in this city. "It would be an injustice to Mr. Taft to let him go into the convention believing Indiana is for him when it is not," said Mr. Crumbaker. "While Mr. Taft may obtain the votes of the delegates to the national convention, those votes will not indicate the feeling of the people. Many stanch republicans in this part of Indiana are against the nomination of Mr. Taft and will work against him. It will be no trouble at all to fill up the membership of the local Roosevelt club with active republicans here."

ATTORNEY CHANGES TACTICS.

State Prosecutor Despairs of Capital Punishment for Murderers.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 7.—Taking lessons from the Lee case in which the triple murderer was sentenced to life imprisonment last week, after his own confessions were admitted as evidence against him, the state's attorney today paid little attention to the question about the death penalty in forming a jury to try William Hester, colored, on a charge of killing Elsie Mitchell, also colored.

"If the state couldn't hang a man for the murder of three persons, it stands little chance of hanging a man for the murder of only one," said Deputy Prosecutor Hardin. The state began its proof in the Hester case yesterday afternoon.

HOLDS POSITION SIXTY YEARS.

Monroe County Man Remains With Monon Road Since '61.

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 7.—Theodore Thrasher, 76 years old, of Monroe county, assisted in building the Monon railroad through the county in the fifties, and has been continuously in the employ of the road since that time. He is now station agent at Smithville, and in the more than sixty years he has been with the road he has missed but two weeks from duty, and that was in 1899, when he was suffering from erysipelas.

Thrasher laid crossties and drove spikes on the road, which was the first built through the county. When the road was finally completed he was appointed station agent at Smithville, and has held that position continuously since April 1, 1861. At the age of 76 he fills the office with ease, and is yet hale and hearty.

INDIANA FINANCIER DIES.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—Frank Martin, treasurer of the Indiana Trust company, died last night following an illness of about six weeks. He suffered a nervous breakdown shortly after returning from the meeting of National bankers at New Orleans.

He was born in Lebanon, Ind., but had been a resident of Indianapolis for several years. He was deputy auditor of state from 1899 to 1903.

Adam Z. Davis, of the Fort Wayne Machine company, will return tonight from Chicago, where he has been attending th eautomobile show.

Keep Your Old Silk Dress

Make It Look New

OLOKLEN DOES THE BUSINESS

Don't throw away your old silk dress. Not until you try cleaning it with Oloklen.

Just put your old silk dress in gasoline and wash it, using Oloklen in the gasoline exactly as you would use soap in water.

Then you will be very glad you kept your fine old silk instead of making a shirt waist or fancy quilt out of it.

Oloklen is the secret the professional dry cleaners have kept for so long. It is the secret of their excellent work and their high prices.

But now the secret is yours. Oloklen costs but fifty cents a can, enough to do ten to fifteen dollars worth of dry cleaning. A smaller can at twenty-five cents.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 7.—Wheat rose in price today as a result of foreign strength. May started at $1.04¼ to $1.04½, a gain of ⅜c to ⅝c, and advanced to $1.04⅝.
Milwaukee reports of the healthiest flour market in two months led to a little further advance, but slowness of cash demand brought about a decided setback. The close was steady with May wheat ⅛@¼c net lower, at $1.03⅝@1.03¾.
The firm cables made corn openings light. May opened ¼c to ⅜c dearer at 68⅜c to 68½c, and ascended to 68⅝c.
Later the corn market became easier, owing to the fine weather. Closing prices were steady with May at 68c, a net loss of ¼c.
Bull leaders purchased freely of oats. May started 1¼c to ¼c higher at 52½c to 52¾c, and climbed to 52⅝c.
Provisions showed a heavy tone on account of the weakness of hogs. The buying was only scattered. Initial sales varied from last night's level to 2½@5c down with May delivery $16.22½@16.25 for pork, $9.32½ for lard and $8.75@8.77½ for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 7.—Prices of the active stocks were little changed at the opening of the market today, with the exception of Union Pacific, which rose a point. Southern Railway preferred advanced 1¼ on a single transaction. Louisville & Nashville was the weakest stock, losing ⅝ point.
Bear traders held the upper hand in the market again and prices fell sharply in spots. Union Pacific lost its advance, United States Steel sold a point under yesterday's closing and Reading reacted from 158¾ to 157⅝.
Prices fluctuated in a perfunctory fashion after the early spell of weakness. Most of the favorite issues clung to the low level, but some of the specialties showed a better tone. Bonds were steady.
Profits were sought in the final dealings and some of the buyers at the earlier low figures closed out. This selling caused a setback of about ½ a point in a few of the leaders, but the list was steady.

ALDRICH MAKES IT STRONG.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 7.—That the republicans should unite in supporting Theodore Roosevelt is the closing statement of a synopsis of the presidential situation given out here today by Governor Chester H. Aldrich. Gov. Aldrich originally was a LaFollette man, but his deflection to Roosevelt had been expected.
Gov. Aldrich asserts that the nomination of Col. Roosevelt would prevent the unrest usually associated with a presidential campaign because of his position toward business is known.
"In my judgment the evidence on every hand shows that the sentiment is rapidly crystallizing around our ex-president, Theodore Roosevelt."

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Get a bottle today and let it do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

TROUBLE DUE TO A SAUSAGE LINK

Harry Blair Failed to Conceal His oBoty and is Arrested.

CHARGED WITH DRUNK

"The Protruding Sausage Link or the Downfall of Harry Blair," is a fitting title for the star number on Judge Frank Mungovan's bill in the city court today.

Blair was charged with public intoxication, but the fact that he took liberties with the meat supply at the Witzigreuter grocery, on West Main street, was the primary cause of his arrest. He was fined $1 and costs after a witness he expected to clear him of the charge had telephoned that he did not buy the sausage at an uptown market, as he testified.

The fact that his wife is ill and that the rent is due and that she needed his support influenced the judge to change his mind and he was let go with a warning. One of the clerks in the grocery discovered a link of sausage hanging out of Blair's overcoat pocket and called the police and he was rounded up.

Drunken Boys Are Held.

Joe Rice and Arthur Edwards, two lads from the vicinity of Pittsburg, rode into town yesterday on a freight and purchased a quart of whisky and drank most of it. Rice succumbed to alcoholic poison and was removed to the Lutheran hospital and his condition was said to be serious.

Edwards said that he didn't know where the whisky was bought. Both are minors, but there is little chance to locate the saloon man who sold them liquor.

Lincoln Hunt, a few years ago a competent train dispatcher, was picked up for vagrancy. He is a liquor victim and was sent to the poor farm.

Garfield Baker, arrested yesterday as George Duffy, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of burglary and was held to the circuit court under a bond of $1,000. He robbed Jim Goodfellow's saloon Saturday night.

EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

Don't Neglect a Cold, Ely's Cream Balm Will Stop It in the Sneezing Stage.

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe, chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless.

V. E. RUSSELL GOES TO TOLEDO

R. G. Dunn Representative is Given Substantial Promotion.

E. L. FEUSTEL HERE

Victor E. Russell, for the past four and a half years the Fort Wayne representative of the R. G. Dun & Co. mercantile agency, has been advanced to the Toledo agency of th ecompany, and Edward L. Feustel has been appointed Fort Wayne manager for the Dun agency. Mr. Russell is now in charge of the Toledo office of the company, where he succeeds Frank V. Culbertson, formerly of Fort Wayne. Mr. Culbertson has been called to one of the big eastern agencies of the company.

Mr. Russell has been in the employ of the Dun company in Fort Wayne for the past seventeen years. He rose to chief clerk, and when Mr. Culbertson was sent to Toledo somewhat more than four years ago Mr. Russell became the Fort Wayne representative of the company. Mr. Feustel, who succeeds him, has been connected with the local offices for the past sixteen years, more recently as chief clerk. A. C. Grodrian, for thirteen years employed by the company here, now becomes chief clerk. Mr. Russell is widely known and extremely popular in both business and social circles in Fort Wayne, and his departure from the city will be keenly regretted. His successor, Mr. Feustel, has received a thorough training in the work and it is predicted that he will be highly successful in it.

WHAT HAZEL GETS IS PLENTY.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Miss Hazel Hogan, who went to jail rather than testify in court against a doctor whom she first charged with robbing her of $1,700 and later realizing an affection for him refused to purge herself of contempt of court, has been sentenced to serve six months in jail for contempt and fined $1,700. Her jail sentence will expire July 15. Unless she pays her fine, it will require three years for her to work it out at the house of correction.

DELEGATES TO DAYTON MEETING

WANT NEW DISTRICT

Four delegates and an equal number of alternates to the annual meeting of the Indiana conference of the Evangelical association, which meets the first week in April at Dayton, Ohio, were elected Wednesday afternoon at the sessions of the district conference of the denomination, which met at the Bethel Evangelical church in this city.

The delegates chosen were F. H. Hersh, Avilla; William Mertz, Fort Wayne; D. N. Ray, Berne; Frederick Stedke, Fort Wayne. The alternates are: W. D. Maluss, Dr. H. W. Cook, W. B. Johnson and J. D. Lininger.

Thirty churches of the district were represented by laymen at the meeting held in this city. Rev. J. J. Wise, the presiding elder of the Fort Wayne district, presided. At the afternoon and evening sessions Dr. L. H. Seager, the president of the Northwestern college at Naperville, Ill., delivered the sermons. His theme in the evening was, "The Laymen's Movement," which was interestingly discussed, the thought being that the laymen of the church are interesting themselves in religion's advancement with greater activity than ever before.

Resolutions were presented and passed by the delegates favoring the redistricting of the Indiana conference, making four instead of three districts. The present districts are Indianapolis, Fort Wayne and Elkhart, and the people of the southern part of the state feel that another district should be established.

Acting for Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church W. E. Doud has closed a deal for the purchase from Mrs. Croxton of the residence property on West Wayne street, immediately west of the church parsonage, for a consideration of $3,500. The new tract has a frontage of 25 feet and a depth of 150 feet. The purchase was made because it was realized that additional ground will soon be needed for the church.

BURNING OF MORTGAGES

Made Occasion of Celebration by Church of Harlan.

Having paid in full the indebtedness and now being on a splendid financial footing, the Church of Christ at Harlan will next Sunday in a public manner burn the mortgage that was given on its church building. The occasion will be one that will be celebrated with special services, forenoon, afternoon and evening and many will be in atendance from the surrounding country. A basket dinner will be served at noon.

The organization of the congregation is the result of evangelistic meetings held several years ago by Rev. E. W. Allen, then pastor of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ, in this city. The first meetings were held in the store room of George Wilson. In 1905 the congregation had gained such strength that a cement block church edifice was built, modern in every detail. The arrangements for the meetings Sunday are in charge of Elders George Wilson, John Meyer and Leroy Blackburn.
